FRIENDSHIPS
Will Always Be Remembered

- A Freshmen, Gina Ashley, Kim Tarmen, Leah Page, Sara Henry, and Jill Hardick, stick together for protection as well as friendship.
- B Marc Snyder and Aaron Cherrington strut their stuff before an outdoor pep rally.
- C Dan Paxton and Craig Campbell team for a test before school.
- D Michelle Pledger and Theresa Art (smile) because they know where the hall passes are!
- E Seniors, Darius Salzer and Becky Bryan stay close together when striding from the greentop.
- F Hoping they won't get caught during class time, Frankie Verdugo and Crissy Roberts sit down to talk about the important topics of the day.
- G Rick Mazza tells his friends Andy Dunn, Jeff Hopkins, Mark Reed, and Cory Henderson that he doesn't go surfing ALL the time.

Friendships become the most cherished memories of school. When you look back at your time here at EHS, you may remember your teachers, or you may reminisce about crazy things you've done, like climbing the cemetery fence after the movies, but your friends will always come to mind first.

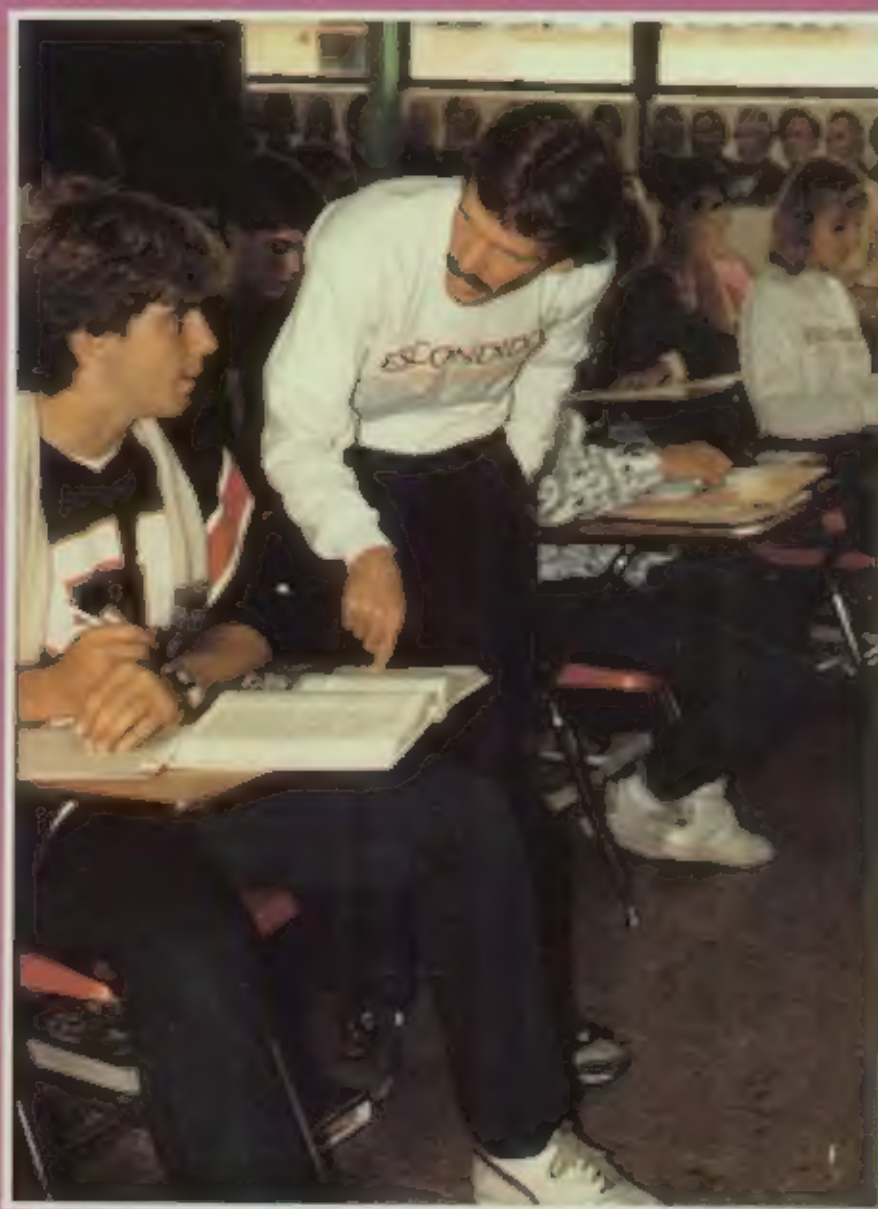

The friends you make in high school could possibly become president of the United States, or a famous movie star! They help you through all your troubled times, like breaking up, family problems, or just the uncertainties of everyday life. No matter how tough the future seems, when your friends are there everything seems to brighten up, and you know you'll make it through.

CLASSTIME

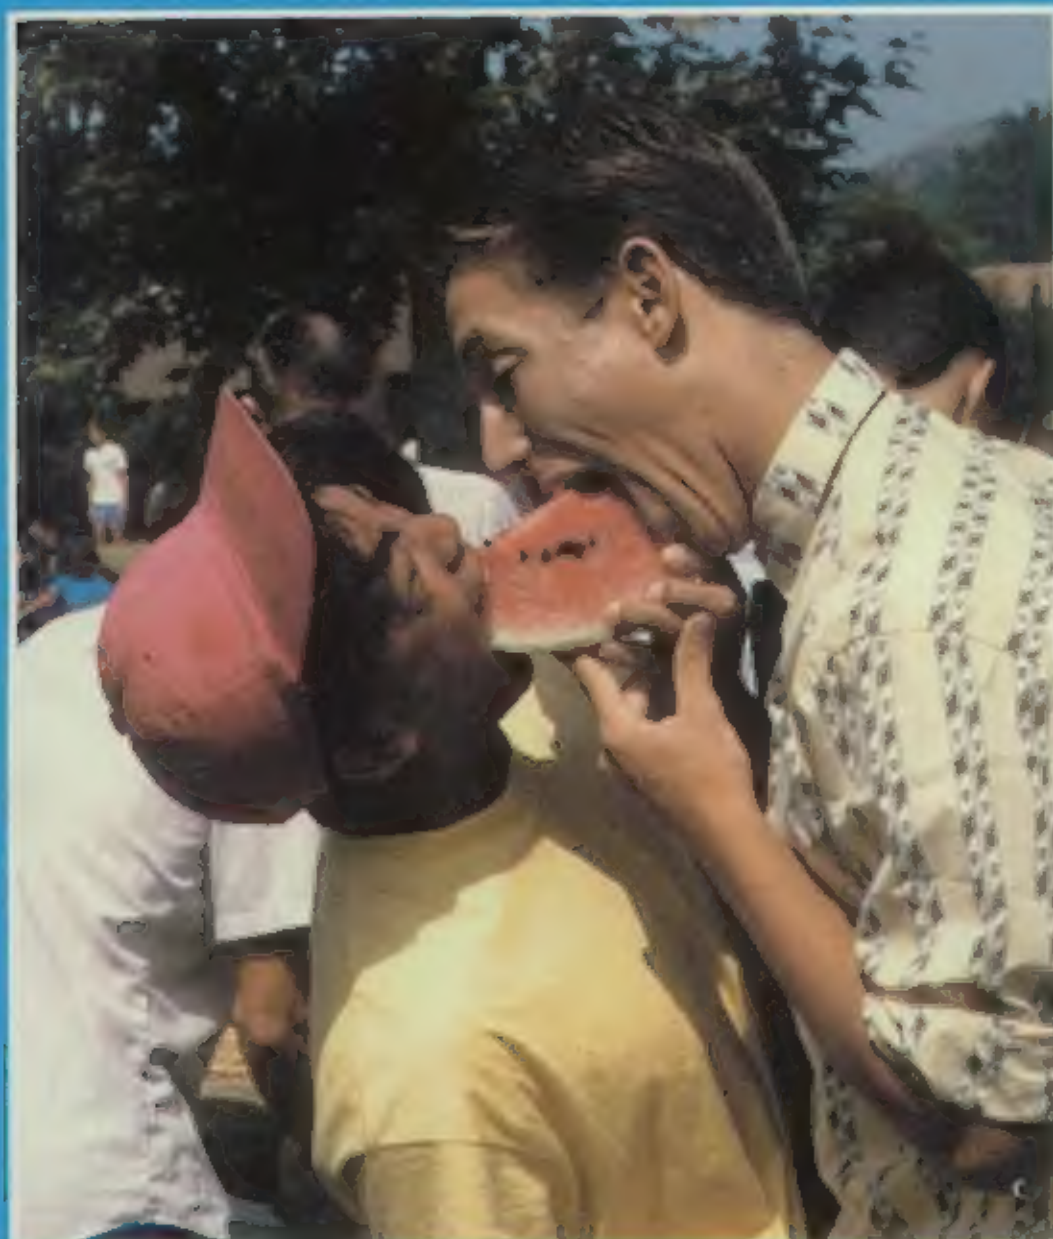

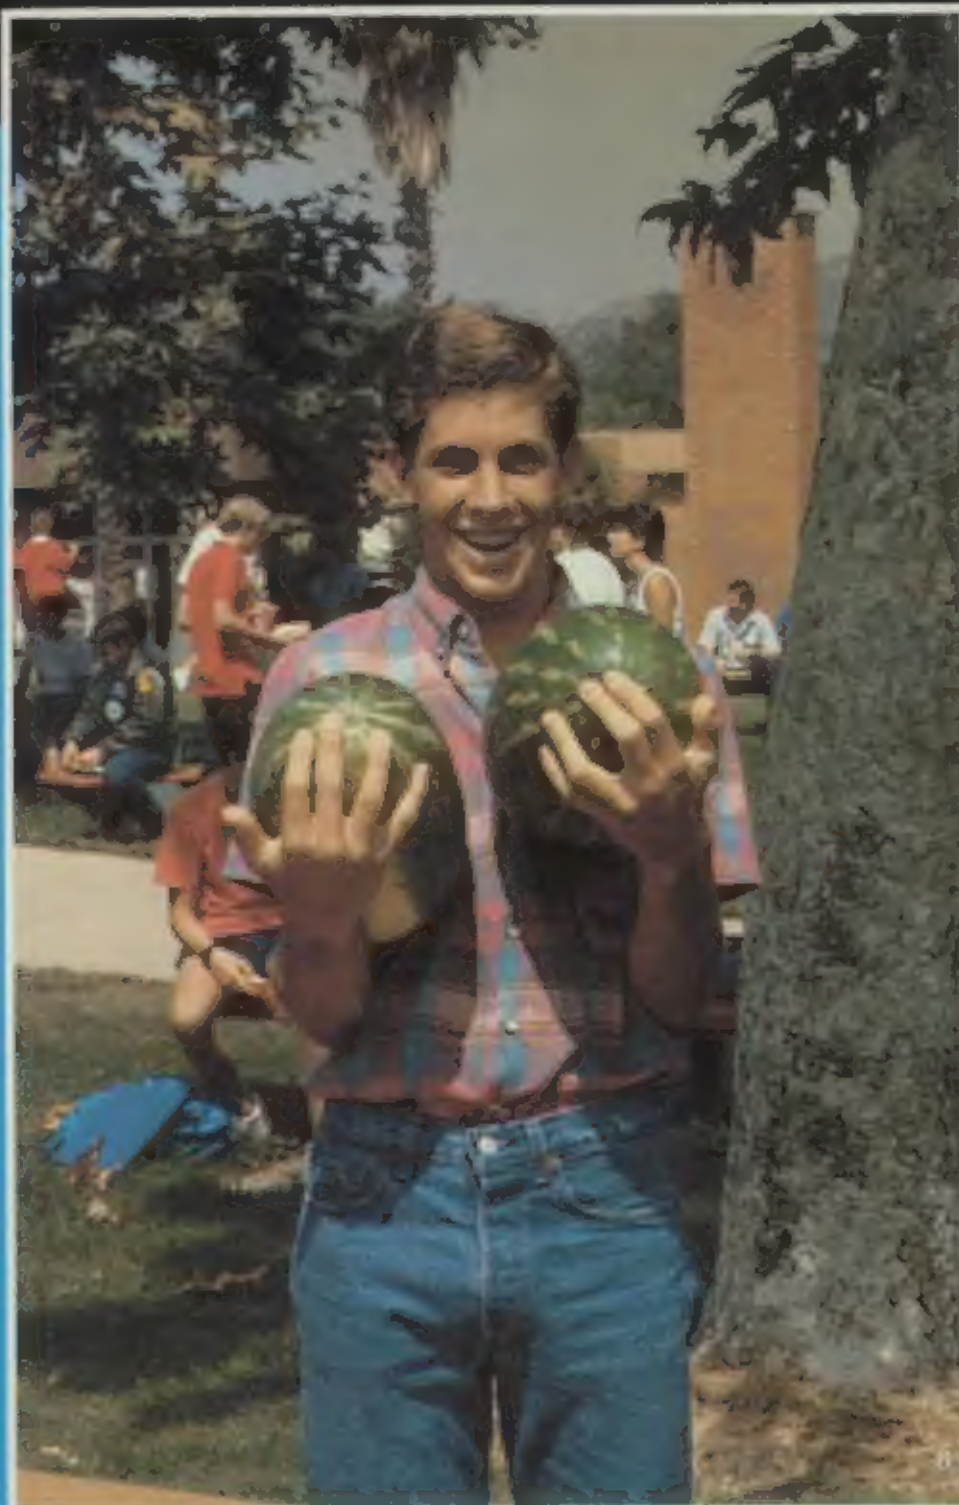

The Future Begins Here

This year, being in class was an experience. Whereas class life is a privilege to some, it is a chore to others. It's hard to think about conjugating verbs in an unairconditioned classroom when the waves are up at 19th Street. Class time memories can be mixed. Listening to long lectures, involving Potassium, dangling participles, or hexagons could never be forgotten. Attending Mr. McKinley's classroom means fun, including how to say "doughnut run" in six languages. What could be more exciting than one of Mr. Clements P.A.T.'s? What could ruin your day more than getting caught with your delux cheatsheet? Or waking during 6th period in your English class that you had 2nd period! One way or another, being in class this year will pay off. Whether you attend college or not, always remember "The effort you make now in class will show in the future."

- B. After turning in his photo assignments, Mike Bruce sits down to relax.
- C. Arthur Aron griddles down a doughnut before going to class.

ALLIES

No matter who you are, lunch seems to be everyone's favorite period of the day. Lunch is the time when you can catch the latest gossip, or just relax. While a few students go to meetings, others hurry to finish classwork for the next period. Whatever you do at lunch, it doesn't matter. Lunch is your time.

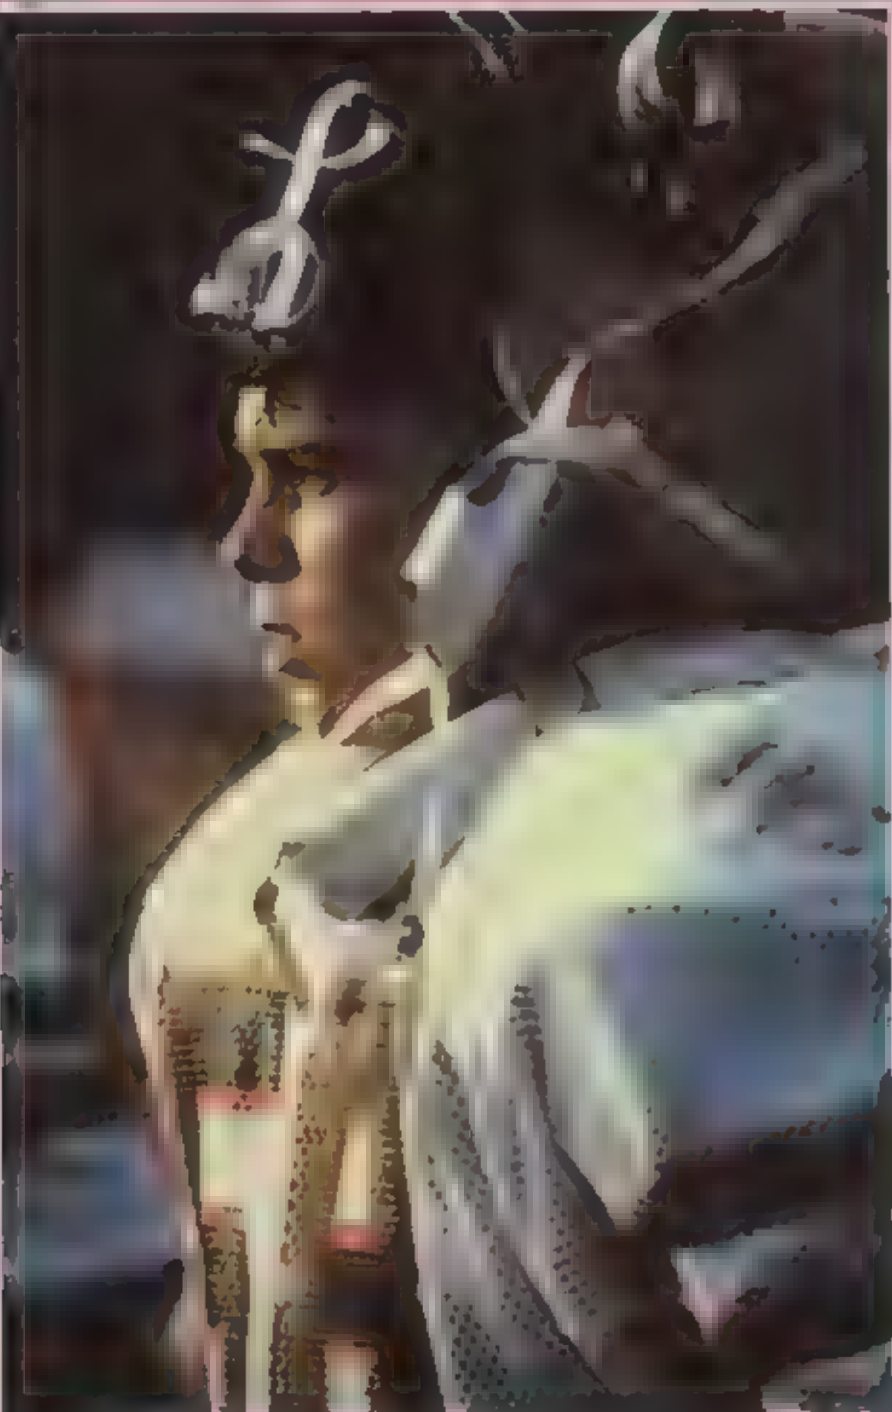

Students still had a hard time adjusting to closed campus, but everyone did a great job and made the best of it. ASD helped by providing activities students could join in on, such as music and the dining room. Students still pray for the impossible: the return of the good ol' days of Burger King and open campus.

PRIDE AND DEDICATION

Striving To Be The Best

Covering a sport is a challenge. A challenge to do so in a way that respects the traditions of the sport. The standards of Ecuador's great athletic tradition. A tradition that includes the football team traveling by horse and mule to get to games. After a long game, the team would have to spend the night before riding home the next day. The multitude of horses on the game was proof of the tradition's legacy, pride and dedication to success, leaving a mark on community that many other teams lack. Our search for the players towards their best both on and off the field. But over and above the success and the tradition are the players. They are the men who sustained Ecuador's greatest athletic tradition.

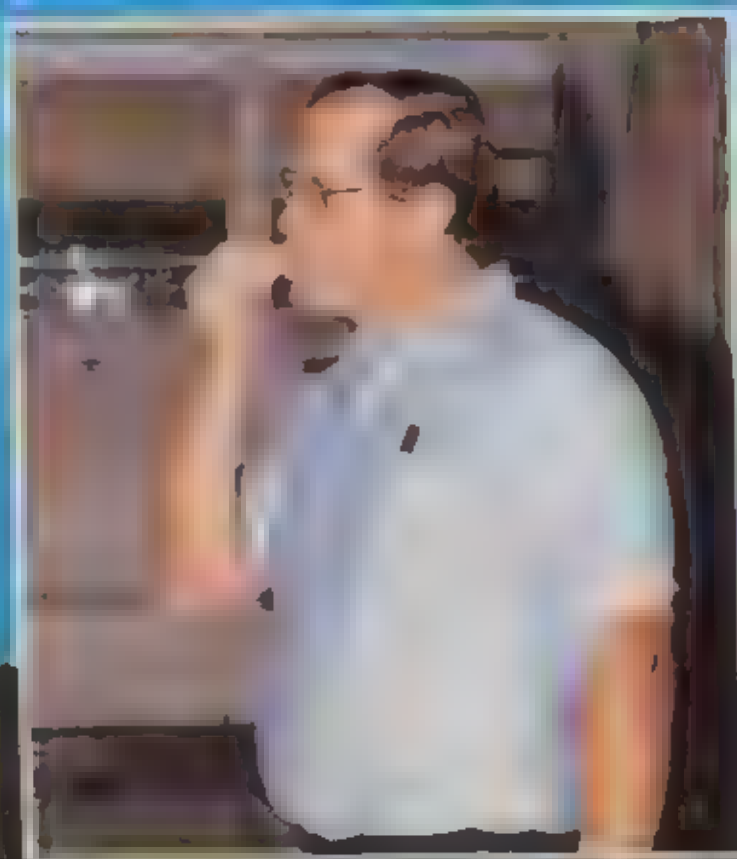

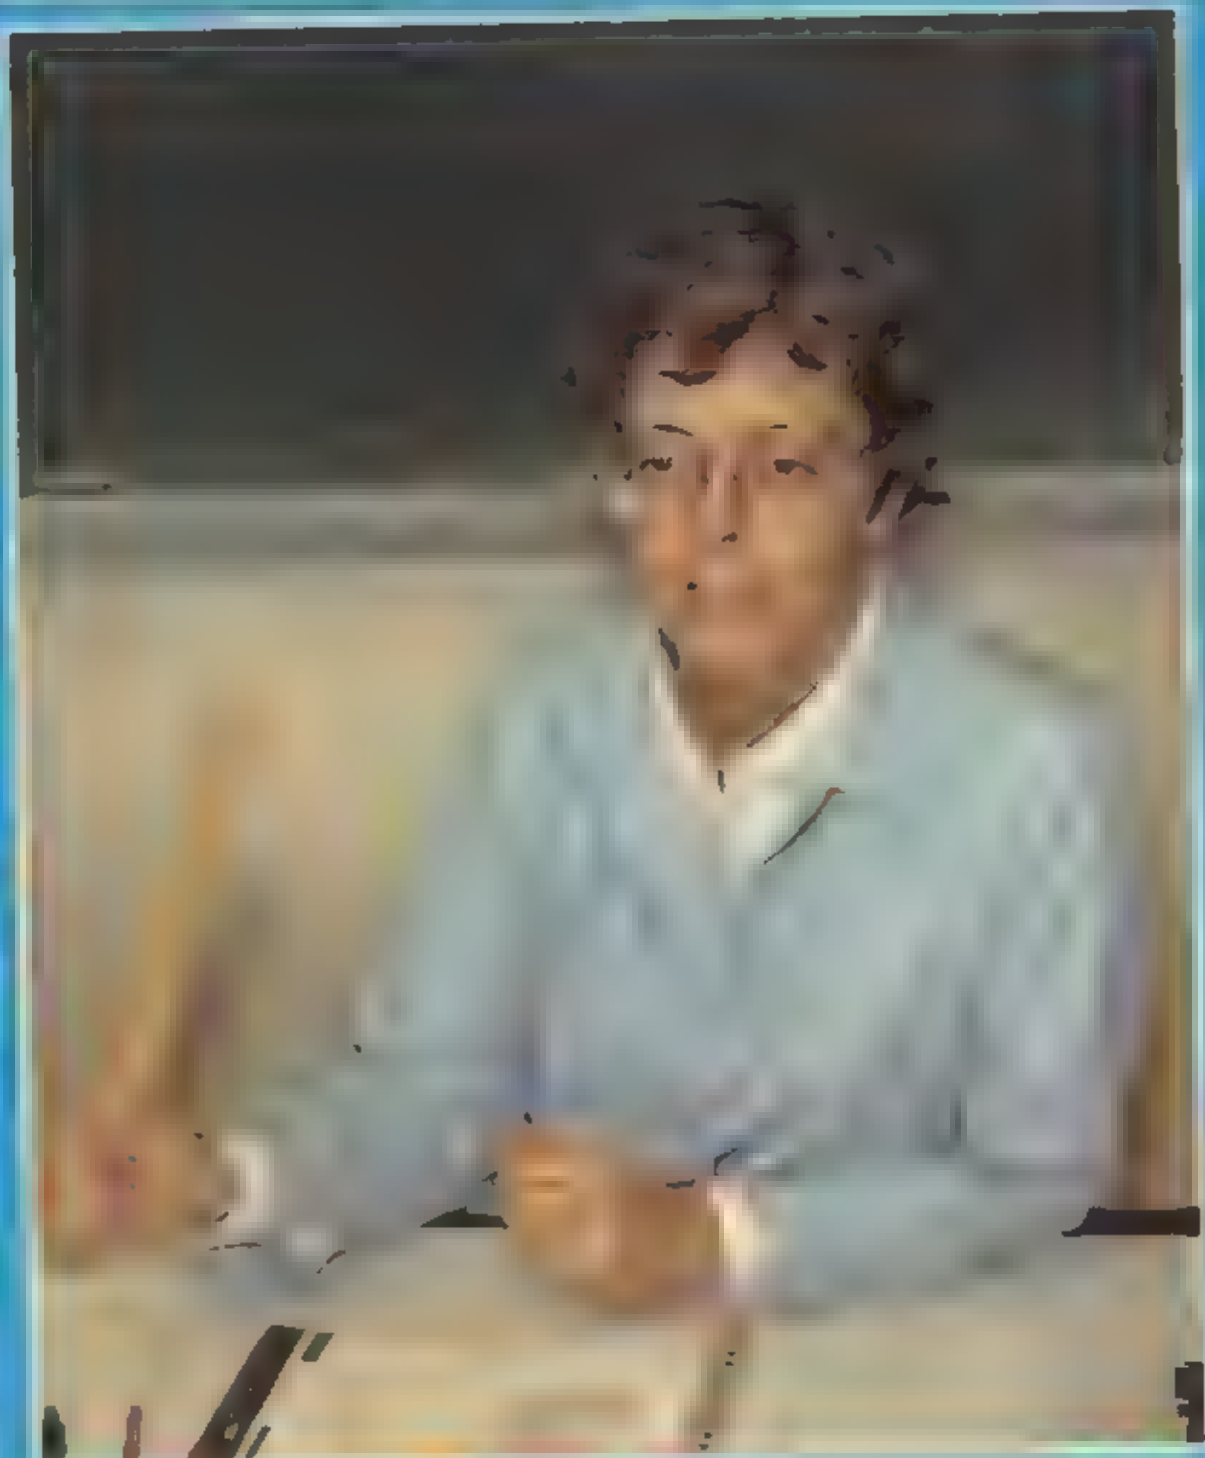

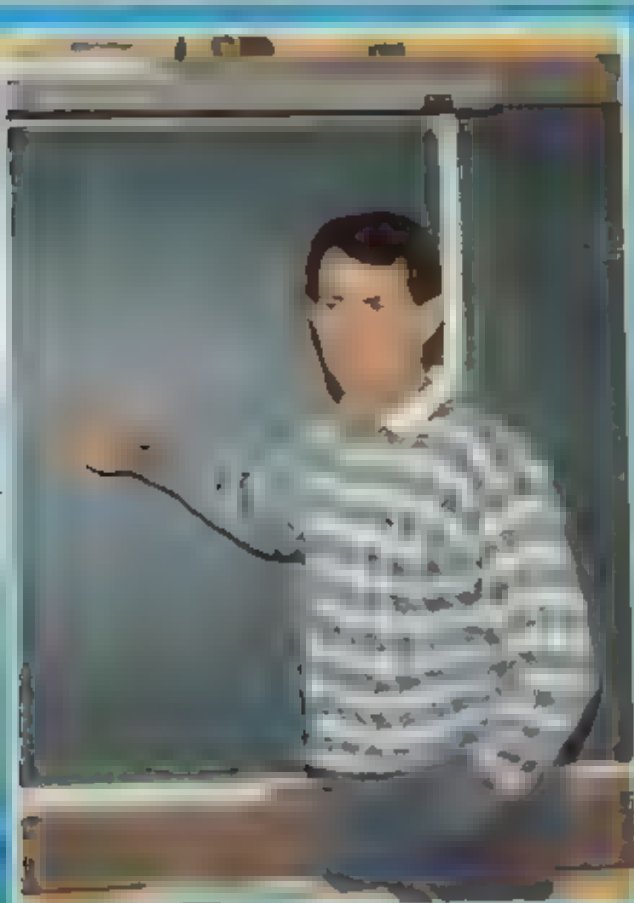

EDUCATIONAL EXCELLENCE

The Tradition Continues

When you started school last September, you might have noticed an orange sign hanging in every room. The sign was designed to promote Escudido High's tradition in educational excellence. EHS has one of the finest teaching staffs in all of Escudido as well as San Diego. Most of the teachers offer their free time to students for help with their studies. Some teachers even encourage students to call them at home if they have any problems. The teachers' main goal is, of course, to teach, but most teachers do much more than that. Escudido High is a place where you might find one of the finest staffs of educational excellence.

COUGAR PRIDE

Continuing to Shine Through

Football games this year were exciting and full of spirit. Although we may not have had our best year some wins, we've still managed to let our Cougar Pride shine through. Friday night's games were on almost everyone's list. EHS students showed their spirit by wearing orange and black and cheering the team on.

Game days began with pep rallies which helped everyone with spirit. This spirit helped the football team try hard in every game for victory. The Cougars will always remember it not because of victories, but because of our PRIDE!

CAMPUS LIFE

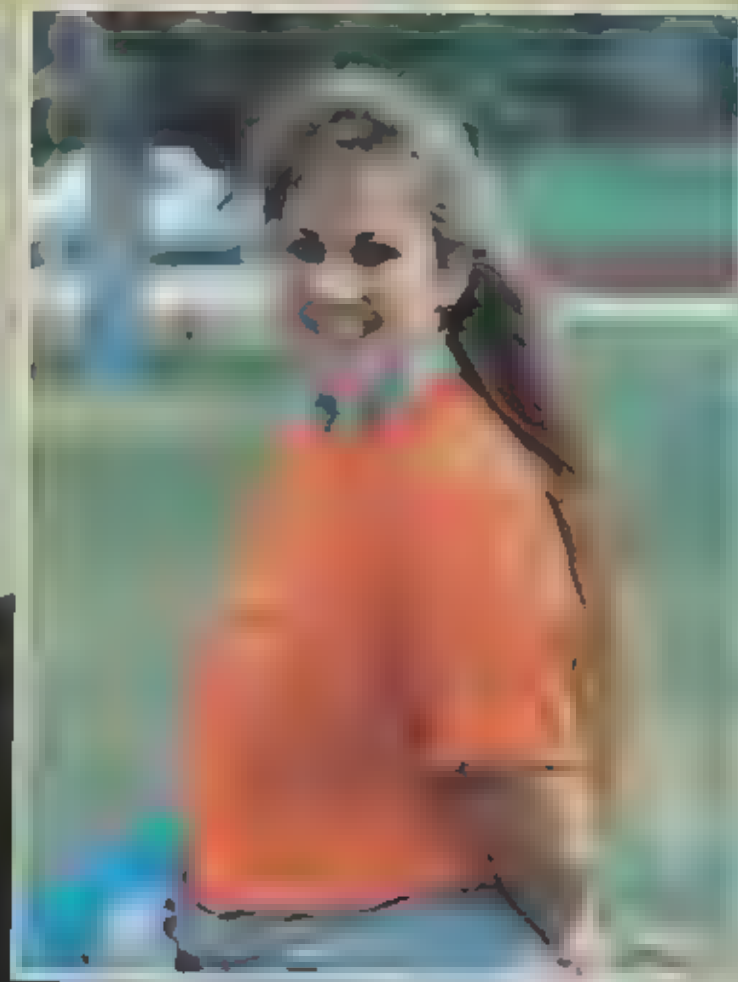

Do You Have A Hall Pass?

When you hear the words—hall pass, Greentop, and Cafeteria food—what comes to mind? Campus Life? Hall passes were back in circulation this year, with each class having two brand new plastic passes. Halfway through the first semester any class was lucky to have one. Anyone know where they went? That's for the Sentinels to know and the rest to find out. Hall passes weren't the only news this year, just one that we could be the most devilish with.

Cross Country

Cross Country Runs Wild

The 1986 Cougar Cross Country team finished with mixed emotions and results. Team captain, Robbie Johnson, inspired the group with his leadership abilities. Though the team was plagued with illness throughout the season, they managed to win a few. Taking first place at the Mt. S.A.C. Invitational, a very prominent race, was a great moral victory that helped unite the team. At the league meet a healthy team raised their standing by placing a strong second. The big assets to the team were runners such as Steve Fenster, Jason Heideman, and Gerald Cabral, all of whom paced the Cougars to victory. The Cougars look forward to a promising '87 season with many returning letterman.

On the girls side, Kirsten Rozenko led the team to a fourth place league finish. Other top performers included Kim Armstrong and Hackdavone Chounlamountry. The season's highlight was the Oceanside meet where all Cougar runners placed ahead of the opponent.

Football

Varsity Struggles Through Tough Season

Looking at the Cougar's varsity football record gives the impression of a depressing season. It wins and losses were the only criteria, that may be a true statement, but there's more to a high school season than just scores. With pride and dedication, the Cougars stuck together the whole year through. Regardless of their record, the Cougar's started each day early with zero period and ended late with afternoon practices that often went into the evening. Most of the games resulted in losses of less than seven points. The Cougars fought hard in every game, but a few untimely turnovers in several games proved to be too costly down the stretch. After losing eight games, the Cougars finally took control and beat an undefeated Oceanside team and kept a depressed Ramona team winless. The big finish this season will carry over to next years team.

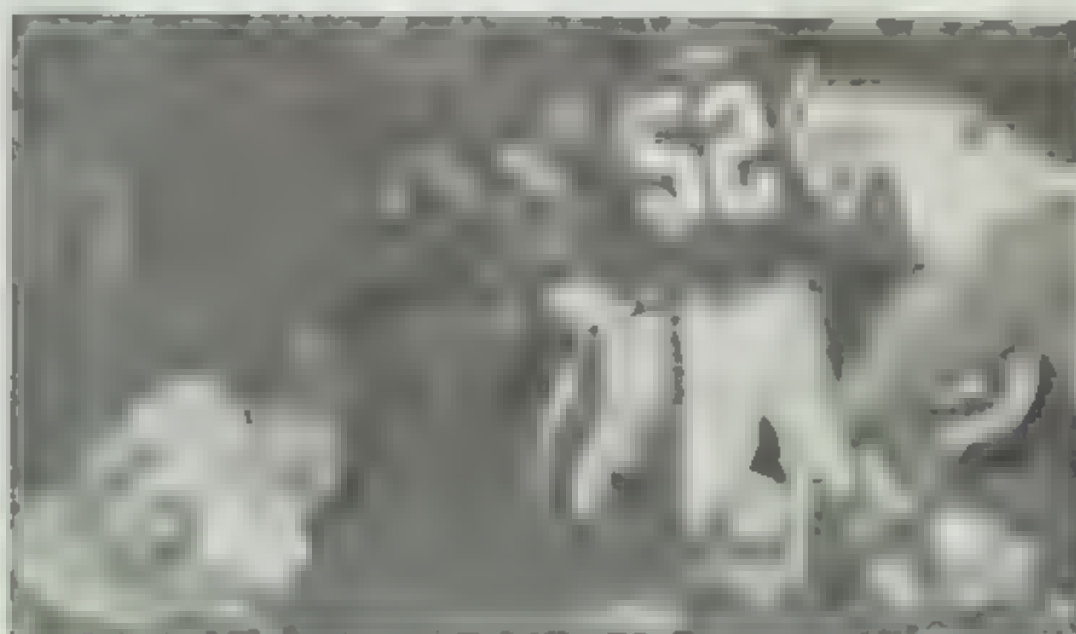

Although there were many talented athletes on offense, Scott Weedmann's efforts, especially in the final two games, make him stand out as a leading offensive player. This years defense also played impressively. Ken Mason made some incredible interceptions, and Jumbo Malsack had an outstanding year.

J.V. Clinches Second In Avocado League

The Cougar's junior varsity football team finished their season near the top with a 6 - 4 record. Led by quarterback Jeff Hopkins and running back Mike Garcia, the team showed it has great talent ready to move up to the varsity level and promises a bright future for Cougar football. Mike Garcia and Gabe Sanchez consistently played important roles in the J.V. games.

New Arrivals Show Promise

Led by running back Neil Small, the freshmen team had a very successful season. The team certainly was not short on numbers. The 49 members is larger than the past few years. This years freshmen talent will soon filter its way up through the ranks of J V. and on to varsity. With this large pool of hard working young players the future looks very promising

Varsity Places Third

Finishing third in league this season, the Cougar's varsity tennis team had an exciting season. Even though they lost to a tough cross town rival San Pasqual, they showed their skills and style by beating a close rival San Marcos. Leaders this year in the singles competitions were Karrie Pettigrew and Oanh Huynh. The doubles matches were headed by two teams of incredible players. Cathy Price and Sandra Dulay worked themselves to the number one spot, while Alicia Herczeg and Christine Rohlmeier followed as the number two doubles team.

J.V. Tennis Shows Lots Of Spunk

This year's junior varsity tennis team showed a lot of spirit. Led by coach Joan Sharrat, many players improved their skills. The singles and doubles teams were great challenges to their opponents. In the future, the team will work its way to being an excellent team with great pride. Half of the team consisted of freshmen. The remainder of the team was made up of two sophomores and three juniors. Looking towards an upcoming season next year filled with many practices and hard work, the team will not easily be dissuaded.

Volleyball

Varsity Works Around Injuries

Plagued with injuries this year, the Cougar's varsity volleyball team did not have quite the season it's had in the past. Kelly Mueller and Anita Butkis, who were two of the only three returning starters, were among the injured. Kelly was out early in the season with a knee injury, while Anita waited until the second half of the season to break a finger. Carrie Fiocco, the only freshman starter on the varsity team injured her knee and was out for one game. Even though the team was young and was led by a new coach, Donna Anderson, their spirits never lagged and they are all looking forward to next year.

Junior Varsity Starts Anew

Led by a new coach, former EHS volleyball player Christo Polero, the Cougar's junior varsity volleyball team had an up and down season, winning some and losing others. However, through it all, they still had fun. Starting off with awesome serves by Becky Pool and aided by great sets from Danielle LaCoste, the team's future looks bright.

- A. With fierce Cougar pride, Michelle Welschaupt spikes fear into the other team's heart.
- B. Showing her skill and determination, three year veteran Anita Butkis attempts to accomplish the perfect set.
- C. Realizing the game relies on the next serve, Becky Pool takes aim to her next victim.
- D. A large part of the game is spent diving for the ball, as JV player Krista Fluharty can tell you.
- E. Unable to get a hand on the ball, Yvonne Brack strategically dunks the ball in hopes of psyching out the other team.
- F. Vicki Rohlmeier shows us her style as she warms up for the big game against San Pasqua.

Water Polo

Poloists Have A Good Season

As the years have gone by, the Cougar's varsity water polo team has not only gotten better, but has become more well known on campus. The only four year veteran, Chris Persinger, feels, along with his coach, Gary Sadnick, that this year was "One of the best in Escondido's history." If the team played in the Avocado League, like the other sports at EHS, they would have been league champs. However, in water polo, Palomar League schools and Avocado League schools combine for a North County Conference. The larger schools tend to dominate the smaller ones. Chris also said that the team philosophy is "go out to play tough, but not to hurt any one." If the team keeps this attitude and keeps up their hard work, in the future they may become the best team in the entire league.

J.V. Knocks Off Some Big Opponents

The Cougar's junior varsity water polo team, coached by former EHS water polo standout Todd Boyer, set some new records. Ron Perkins broke an old team record of 53 goals in a season by scoring 62 of his own. Another record holder, sophomore Curt Vurpillat, one of the best junior varsity goalies in the league, holds eight of nine EHS goalkeeping records. Curt feels the team has done very well considering the inexperience of the team. The majority of the team are freshmen or sophomores. They beat polo power Mt. Carmel and were tied with league J.V. champions Poway with only 33 seconds to go before losing by only one point. The potential is definitely there for this group of young people to send some good players to the varsity and still be an outstanding team.

- A With skill and determination, Erik Pili prepares to shoot on goal.
- B Mark Fleek makes a lay out maneuver to catch the ball and prevent the SP player from stealing it.
- C Playing the nerve racking position, goalie Matt Lounsbury adds another blocked shot to his record career saves.
- D Chris Persinger protects the ball from his opponent while searching for the right pass.
- E Showing speed and quickness Curt Vurpillat makes another one of his record breaking saves.
- F Mia Duenas knocks the ball out of the hand of the San Pasqual player.

Boys Basketball

Varsity Clinches City Champ Title

Even though the season started out a bit shaky, and for a while the players did not know if they had a coach or not, the varsity basketball team never gave up hope. The players started off the season with an awesome win over Orange Glen, who in the past had proved to be a tremendous challenge. To continue the promise of an excellent team, the Cougars beat another tough cross town rival in San Pasqual. By putting such an effort into these games, EHS became City Champs. Also doing well in tournaments, the EHS Cougars travelled to Chino for a tournament and took a respectable seventh place.

With many talented players, such as three year varsity man, Paul Baldwin, it's no wonder the Cougars did so well this past season. Captain of the team, John Lovett, proceeded to put the majority of the points on the scoreboard, while Scott Campbell and Mason Stevenson racked up the most rebounds.

Junior Varsity's Potential Excels

The junior varsity boys basketball team stayed right up at the top. They also became city champs after defeating the trying Patriots and Eagles. The team also beat San Marcos by a close score of 40-35. The players stayed at the top of their game due to the coaching of Paul Kinder and the talent of teammates such as Brooks Barnhard and Gerald Cabral. Because these two players were so outstanding, it caused the rest of the team to perform at their highest potential.

Frosh Are Reaching High!

Coach Dave Turner of the Frosh Basketball team had only good to say about his team.

"They are intelligent and were fun to coach," Turner, after returning from a year long break of coaching, was very proud to lead such an unselfish team that worked well together.

The co-captains of the team, Robert Chavez and Neil Small proved to be the best players overall. Tony Peterson and Tyler Sommer scored the most for the young team. Brian Beverly and Tuan Nguyen on the reverse were very aggressive and played a mean defensive game. The outlook from this Cougar team was very positive and everyone is optimistic they will go on to be undefeated.

- A Chris, another in a long line of Hentschels, masters the freethrow.
- B Curt Vurpiat goes up and over a defending Knight to make an easy two points.
- C Getting an arms length ahead of his opponent, James Dyer gets the offensive rebound.
- D Busting from the corner, John Cherrington gets the ball to an awaiting player.
- E Brooke Barnhard puts the finishing touches on Carsbad.
- F Neil Small used all of his talent to make the basket over two Eagle defenders.
- G Tyler Sommer was a key to the defeat of the Eagle's spirit, pride, and power.
- H Brian Beverly was never far from a scoring court for the Cougars.
- I Out doing his opponent, Robert Chavez adds yet another two points to the growing score against the Eagles.

Boys Soccer

Varsity Beats Crosstown Rivals

Gary Vosburg, coach, and Tom Terrazas captained the Cougar varsity boys' soccer team to the position of city champs this year. They grasped this title during the Intercity Tournament early in the season. After this outstanding feat, the Cougar's went on to win many more games. These accomplishments were due to two all time varsity players as well as many first and third year players. Robbie Johnson and Tom Terrazas never knew what it was like to be junior varsity players. They began at the top. This years team, with the new and old alike, gave it their all to be the best they could.

- With such determination, Cary Pyle gets the ball downfield for the score.

J.V. Starts New

Even though quite a few players left the team early in the season and few games were won, the junior varsity boys' soccer team still tried to work as a team. According to freshman Jeff Ponce, as the season progressed the players quit playing as individuals and began playing as a team, even if it was too late to have a great season. Brad Krause, coach, with the help of assistant Mr. Sinohui, one of the players' fathers, and team captain, Iain Shigeoka, united the young team. A couple of standouts on the team were Steve Sinohui, most goals, and Mike Krizman, best defensive player.

Girls Soccer

Veterans Lead the Team

Early in the season, the varsity girls soccer team took second place in the 2A division at the San Pasqual Tournament. This happened because of four players, Denise Clester, Noemi Lizalde, Jennifer Staab, and Norlie Torcuato, who have been on varsity since they were freshmen. Well, believe it or not, along with the four veterans, this year's team has two new rookie freshmen, Sarah Henry and Carrie Fiocco, all of which have great spirit and skill. The girls, which were lead by Coach Jack Saffell, were also under the great leadership of co-captains Noemi and Jennifer.

Also this year, for the first time, many players of the varsity team participated in a traveling team. This team had a very talented group of players from many schools.

Junior Varsity Grows

Working extremely hard every day, the Cougar's junior varsity girls soccer team ran two miles before they even began regular practice. Even though only three players of the team, Dianna Gruber, Yolanda Marks, and Francine Verdugo, had played together before this year, the team worked well together under the leadership of Coach Gary Frank. The many new players on the team tried very hard and progressed well throughout the season. Tiffany Van Fleet showed herself to be one of the best defensive players on the team and Kira Finley proved to be the most aggressive. The members of the team this year shared two important positions. Dianna Gruber and Shirley Dodson were co-captains for the team and Julie Toedt and Kim Hatter shared the most important position of all, goalie.

Wrestling

Varsity Wrestling Go All The Way!

The Cougar varsity wrestlers showed that last year's re-building stage was profitable for this year's team. Talent was overflowing during all tournaments and matches. Due to this talent, the team was undefeated during the regular season and consequently went on to the finals and championships.

The Jim Londos Varsity Tournament proved to be very successful for the Cougars. Five members of the team made it to the finals and EHS overall placed second. Chris Ronalds and Jose Martinez placed first in their weight divisions while Travis Bush and Jumbo Malsack settled for second place silver medals in their divisions.

Junior Varsity - Undefeated

A new twist was added to the junior varsity wrestling team this year. Alexia Stultz was the first girl to compete for the Cougars in a sport with a history of being all males. It was obvious that Alexia was a help, not a hindrance to the undefeated team. Next year looks very promising with the great spirit and unbiased opinions. Already many junior varsity players wrestle for the varsity team. Some of the most promising wrestlers are Gabe Sanchez, Tony Yribe, Abe De La Cruz, Tom Milks, Mike Miles, and Tony Woodshank.

Frosh - Promising Future

The frosh wrestling team has many up and coming wrestlers. Jeff Bowles is one of these wrestlers. He was an incredible challenge to all of his opponents, who happened to range from frosh to j.v. to varsity. Many freshmen wrestlers wrestled for junior varsity and even varsity, depending on challenge matches held the day before a tournament. Joey Reyes, Trevor Bolivar, Robert Reese, and Ricky Lizalde are just a few more of the spinted wrestlers.

Renewal of Spirit

Ending a three year lull at Escondido High School, the Cougar girls began a basketball team. This proved to be one that the interest and spirit were alive to make a challenging team. Because the team was young and had no experience working together, they did not have the best season in EHS history. However, due to the coaching of Mike Edgington the team had a fairly successful first season. One of the team's biggest triumphs was beating a tough challenger, El Camino, who they had previously lost to in triple overtime.

According to junior Teresa Moretti, the team had tried very hard at every practice and during every game. A few of the outstanding players were Cathy Price, Kelly Klungreseter, Noel Blais, Candy Devine, and Teresa Moretti. Cathy scored the majority of the baskets while Teresa and Kelly excelled at rebounds. Candy, team captain, proved to be a fine defensive player and Noel a fine offensive player.

Baseball

Varsity Does It Again!

With seven returning varsity players, the Cougar varsity baseball team ranked high in league play. The teams trip to CIF made it three years out of the last four that the powerful team went to the play-offs. All league players, Jason Hobbs, Andy Martin, and Gary Larrabee, making their second consecutive trip, led the team in most statistical categories. Under the leadership and coaching of Bill Kutzner the team continues to be a dominate force in the Avocado League. Other contrubutions were made by freshman catcher Tommy Afenir who filled in well until Gary Larrabee returned to the line up.

One of the years highlights was the 5-2 defeat over crosstown rival San Pasqual.

- F Showing his three years of experience, Jason Hobbs makes a key double play as he tags the base and throws the ball to first base

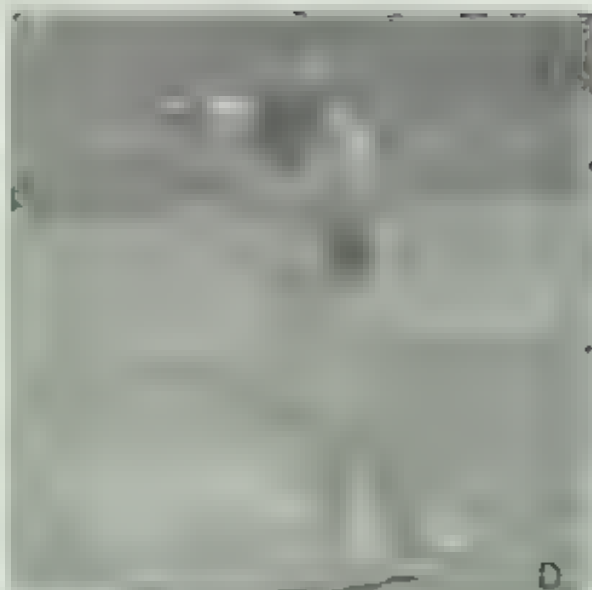

Experience on the Rise

This year's junior varsity baseball team happens to be last year's freshman championship team. The four talented pitchers, Robert Erp, Mike Garcia, Jim McCarthy, and John Montgomery helped the Cougars through the season. Their coach, Mike Williams felt the team works well as a group, has much hitting potential, and has a chance to go far with their growing experience.

The Cougars were off to a great start this season, winning their first game against San Dieguito 10-4. Robert Erp pitched the winning game with Brian Frank as the number one hitter.

Gymnastics

Former Letterman Leads Team

This year the varsity gymnastics team was coached by a former Escondido High four year letterman, Marci Hauser. With the great efforts of their new coach and the dedication of the team captain, Sabrina Machin, the Cougars started off the season with wins over the San Pasqual Eagles and the Fairbrook Warriors.

Along with two talented returning lettermen, juniors Dina Manning and Tina Hall, this years team consisted also of two freshmen, Shanna Shaver and Janice Garcia.

J V.-Hard Work Is the Key

For a team made up of first year gymnasts, Alicia Fulford was the perfect coach. A former four year Cougar gymnast herself, the coach worked hard with the junior varsity team and helped to build their pride and spirit. Because their first meet was not as good as they had hoped for, the Cougars worked harder and practiced more. This persistence will definitely pay off in the future.

Softball

Young Team Proves Competitive

Noemi Lizalde, a four-year returning letterman and Janet Painter, a three-year returning letterman helped first year varsity softball Coach Ken Walker guide the young team. "The team is competitive and works hard," says Walker, a former boys baseball coach. Along with the two seniors, the team consisted of six juniors and five sophomores. Everyone had to work well together in order to be a successful team and a contender for the League Championship.

Jack Saffel has once again returned to coach softball, but this year the junior varsity team. The players could be found practicing everyday after school to enhance this season and to have a great varsity team next year. Experience was not a great factor for the team. Most of the players had played many times before.

SOFTBALL

Interest Prompts Frosh Team

As well as adding new dugouts, Escondido High School added a frosh softball team to the roster. Due to the overflow of interest and talent the new team was needed to give everyone a chance to show their stuff. The group was under the direction of young coach, Jeff Adams. With his leadership and their talent, the Cougars had a very successful first season.

Cougars Go For the Green

Hidden Meadows was the place to be this season, if golf is your sport. Many competitions, as well as practice and challenge matches, were played there. Once again, the Cougar golfers were coached by dedicated Mike Busch. As predicted last year, sophomore Curt Vurpillat and junior Joe Schroeder established themselves on the roster. Also among the top four players were returning letterman and the only senior, John Lovett and newcomer, sophomore Paul Hunt.

Ramona proved to be the only obstacle the Cougars had to conquer for the second place position in the Avocado League this season.

Boys Swimming

Fewer Swimmers Turn Out

With only half as many swimmers as last year, the varsity team had to work twice as hard. Scott Magness, who holds the school record for the breaststroke had to really strive to keep his Avocado League title for the boys team. Moving up into the number one sprinter position was junior Ron Tjalkens. As far as distance events are concerned, Chris Busse and John Swafford were in control. Rounding out the team were two seniors John Szakara and Daryl Racz, who excelled at the backstroke.

The 1987 junior varsity boys swim team consisted mainly of freshman, many of which had to be recruited. Seniors Lead the Way!

The varsity boys tennis team had only ten players this season. The group, mainly seniors, was coached by Mr. Dodin. With practice every day, the Cougars worked their way up the ladder. Leading the team were number one and number two singles players, Thounh Huynh and Young Pak respectively. The number one doubles team in 1987 was the incredible pair, Kiet Tran and Hung Tran.

Boys Track

Seniors in the Lead

To start the season off, the Escondido track teams had two wins and only one loss. While losing the league opener to San Pasqual, the Cougars still had enough power to finish high in league.

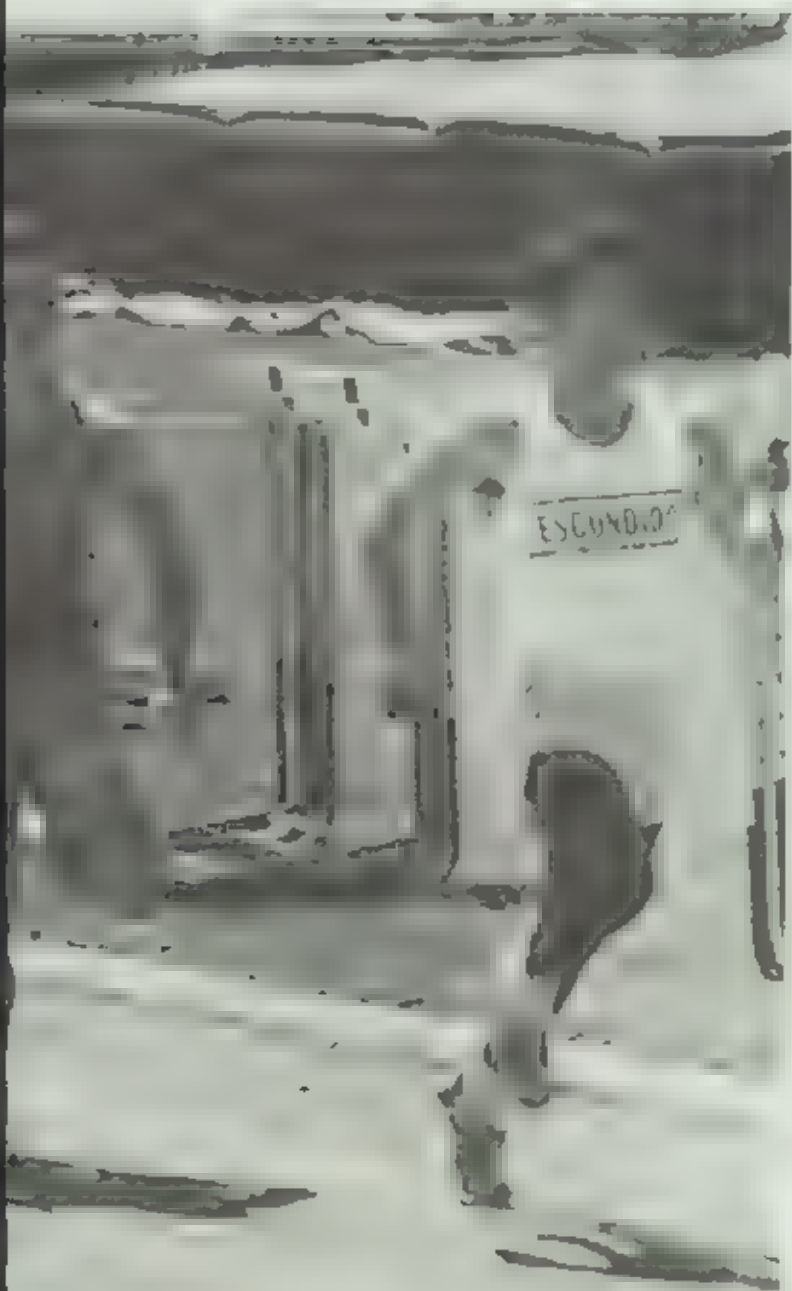

Scott Weedman and Jumbo Malsack were just two of the leading point getters in 1987. Weedman in particular has an excellent chance in the CIF SD sprint competition. Malsack, who was third in the shot put last year, is expected to challenge for the top spots in both shot put and discus this year.

Others who contributed to Escondido High's track fortunes included a magnificent distance team composed of Jason Heideman, Steve Fenster, Robbie Johnson, Mark Culbert, Paul Pettross, Jose Martinez, and Gerald Cabral.

The pole vaulters were lead by junior John Cleveland, but perhaps the most outstanding underclassman proved to be sophomore Mario O'Connor, who developed into one of the top high and low hurdlers in the league. Another surprise was junior Mike Gurr, who consistently managed 20 feet or better in the long jump.

Young Cougars Have Mixed Season

This year's winning girl's track team was off to a great start, they placed third in the Palm Springs Invitational.

The team has been developing well with many outstanding individual performances. The sprint team this year is young, but good with Daisy Salas leading the way. The jumpers, led by Dorinda Valenti, have a lot of potential. Michelle Weishaupt and Mary Ross's high ranking in the hurdling events caused this to be the strongest event this year. The hardest working individuals were the long distance runners, which included Kirsten Rozenko, Kim Armstrong, and Denise Snyder. Kelley Mueller and Michelle Pledger led this year's throwers to victory by winning first honors in every event.

Boys Volleyball

Varsity Sets Up For the Future

Once again, EHS tried their hand in boys volleyball. Two years ago Coach Dale Cornelius formed a boys volleyball club, which allowed boys to obtain on the court experience. However, this is the first year that Escondido has sponsored an official team.

Though the varsity team lacks experience, it does have many players that show great hope for the future. The team consists of a wide range of seniors, juniors, and sophmores. Some outstanding players are senior Joe Henson, who plays middle blocker and Ramon Romero, who plays setter. Other good players that have good potential are Men Tang and Ethan Tunnell.

"We probably aren't CIF bound this year, but we are setting up a base for future EHS teams," said senior player, Jeff Miller.

New Team Proves Competative

Showing great promise, the junior varsity boys volleyball team was also headed by an experienced coach, Dale Cornelius. The team consisted of many hopefuls for future teams. With only one freshman, Tuan Nguyen, and many sophmores and juniors, the team worked hard to gain experience. Dusty Jacobs and Hector Vasquez have proven themselves to be great assets to the Cougars. Though the team lacked height, they proved to be great competition for their opponents.

Off Campus Sports

Competition Without the Pressure

Students at Escondido High School, be they freshman, sophomores, juniors, or seniors, not only participate in regular school sports, but also in off-campus sports. Skiing, surfing, skateboarding, cycling and waterskiing are just a few of these sports. The Cougar students can enjoy these sports without the large high school competition. These activities are the perfect way to keep in shape and make new friends without worrying about a title. Friends, family members, clubs, and youth groups are all the different types of people these sports contain. You can participate in the off-campus sport of your choice with people from all schools, of all ages, or simply on your own.

Principal Aims School In New Direction

This year Escondido High was pleased to welcome a new principal Jacqueline Nichols. An alumni to EHS, Mrs. Nichols came with great hopes for our school. With her theme "A Tradition in Educational Excellence", we were capable of showing the other schools that we are not ordinary like most schools, but we stand out as being the best.

Advice From The Best

Escondido High takes pride in the "tradition of excellence" met by its dedicated and loyal counselors. When problems arise in a student's schedule or home life, they can always depend on their counselors to pull them through.

This year the counseling office welcomed a new member. Mrs. Pat Roach. Dedicated and personable, Ms. Roach undertook the task of organizing scholarships for seniors.

Although the school years will continue to remain hectic with confusing schedules and new faces, Escondido High can remain confident that our ever faithful counselors will continue their excellent work.

Writing With Pizazz

With new ideas and new assignments, the English department had a wonderful year. Not only did students improve on their grammar and vocabulary skills, but focused on reading and writing skills too.

This year the English department was enlightened by a hard working team of Ms. Coolidge and Joan Stollar. The gate and code 1 classes had the chance to read a variety of authors, from the famous American author Mark Twain to the famous Greek philosopher Socrates.

After completing a book, students participated in group discussions and wrote essays concerning the book.

The new program sharpened students' abilities to reason as well as their writing skills. Everybody should know how vital those skills are inside and outside of the classroom.

Weird Science

Exploring new and exciting concepts was the goal of the science department. Students discovered their physical and chemical breakdowns with the help of textbooks, teachers, and the ever popular lab activities. Experimenting with the unknown, at least for the first semester, science activities ranged from discovering that sulfur dioxide smelled like rotten eggs, to working with hazardous chemicals.

For now, science classes Biology I and II, Chemistry I and II, and Physics I and II are the only ones that use a computer. An exception to the rule is the Science class was the Advanced Computer Science class. In the past, the only computer in the school was the one in the library. Now, the school has a computer in the Science department. Eva Skinner and Scott Magness also used the computer for a science fair project. Seeing the success of the computer in the Biology and Life Science classes, the Chemistry and Physical Science classes are also planning for a computer.

While the sciences were popular with the students, the staff kept things under control: experimental atomic bombs and examinations of other students were strictly prohibited.

Going Back In Time

The school's history is a rich tapestry of events and people. From the early days of settlement to the present, the school has been a central part of the community. The building itself is a testament to the school's long history, with its architecture reflecting the styles of different eras. The school's mission has remained constant: to provide a quality education for all students. The faculty and staff are dedicated to this mission, working hard to create a supportive and challenging learning environment for every student. The school's success is a result of the hard work and dedication of everyone involved.

A Way With Words

This year the foreign language department has been working on a project to improve the quality of the foreign language program.

Spanish and French, both offered this year, better enlightened students with more dialogue, special incentives, and increased classroom activities. Students learned more than just the language in these classes, they learned about a whole different culture.

Lara Osborn, Spanish I student, commented that although the class was challenging she managed to get by with passing grades.

SPECIAL CLASSES students have a chance to shine in drama, dance, or art classes.

Drama is a terrific class for someone to take if they like to transform their personalities. One example of this is senior Mark Culbert. He has portrayed many different people such as Scrooge in A Christmas Carol and Fireman II in The Still Alarm which he also directed. Drama class has truly enhanced his acting abilities.

Dance class consists of upper classmen. They are chosen from open tryouts. The students hone their dance skills working toward their spot in the dance concert. All dances are performed and choreographed by students. Special thanks goes to Kelley Mueller for organizing the dance TJ or Bust which added originality and amusement. Kelley also choreographed her solo to a Phil Collins hit and brought out her talent obtained in her dance class.

Art students learn composition, color mixing, and lettering with both pen and ink. Emphasis is placed on design, craftsmanship, and originality. The class allows students to express themselves while encouraging improvement.

Let's Get Physical

Whether it's keeping the beat in aerobics or jogging up and down the court in basketball, the PE class is one class that is constantly on the move. This year, like many others, students were given many options, such as volleyball, racketball, soccer, or weight lifting, just to name a few. Like the many years before, freshmen were bussed down to the pool to partake in an age old tradition - swimming!

Escondido High Cougars are definitely quite fit!

- A. Attempting some quick moves, Jay Kent goes for a basket against opponent Eric Glassnap.
- B. Matt Larson discovers that badminton can be a dangerous sport as he ducks before Shane Smith whacks the birdie.
- C. Mark Reed, one of the better high school weight lifters, shows his determination to exceed his record.
- D. Withstanding Rati's famous aerobics class, Carlos Martinez keeps on pumping.
- E. Matt Whitten learns the finer art of holding up models by Mr. Dennis Mainardi.
- F. Martin Chamu works with extreme caution on his electronics project, unaware that it is part of a practical joke played by his teacher.
- G. Robbie Devish finally figures out why his motorcycle isn't running.
- H. Jeremy Friend asks David Selvig where that thing-a-ma-jig goes in his engine.
- I. Ethan Tunne shows us his know-how with electrical tools.

Learning The Tricks Of The Trade

Getting down to some serious business, students were able to learn the tricks of the trade in classes such as woodshop, electronics, auto, and drafting. Though some students feel it necessary to focus their studies on college preparatory courses, the lessons taught in these are definitely important for the future.

When having car troubles or when a light fuse just won't work, you can always count on these departments to lend a hand for they specialize in these types of problems.

Mrs. Katy Huff, editor, has been at the helm for some time but when the paper first started, it was the best ever. Last, but not the least, the yearbook was pulled through again to bring forth an even better yearbook. No one will ever forget the fated words of Mr. Gary Sadnick during deadline time, "I want good captions and good copy!"

- A Putting his muscle into the job, Don Bennett helps get ready for the homecoming float
- B Greet Fabritius has experienced many new things this year, including the stress involved before a yearbook deadline
- C ASBer's Bob Crawford and Eric Hayes laugh at the nominations for the homecoming court
- D Computer work, Chris Persinger says, but Mrs. Huff, I can't write cause Mr. Pepperoni stole all my pencils!

- E Sports photographers and copywriters Huy Nguyen, Mark Marquer, Alissa Beckett, and onlooker Casey Harvey, watch in amazement as sports editor Brad Drinkward works on a layout for the first time all year!

Preparing For The Future

For those who aren't sure about life after graduation and for those who are, now is the time when you're in school and you are provided with knowledgeable people to help you now is the time to see what might become of yourself.

With so many courses to choose from, opportunities are endless. The sports-oriented types may apply for athletic scholarships, but for those who aren't as active, scholarly doors still exist. One such opening is not as publicized, the homemaking department. For those of us like Shancy Barron who have become talented seamstresses under the guidance of Mrs. Gloria Woodward or those who can cook up a mouth watering meal, scholarships are available with the help of Mrs. Patricia Roach.

Experience, that's what counts. High school provides Mr. Norm Quinn's Work Experience Program.

It's a program that gives students the opportunity to gain real-world experience while still in school. It's a program that allows students to explore different career paths and gain valuable skills that will help them in the future.

A head start on life is what Mr. Quinn likes to call it, and it's a program that gives students the opportunity to get a head start.

Putting Their Best Foot Forward

When the students at EHS are not in class, they are often found in the gymnasium, where they are allowed to participate in a music class. Bongos, tambores, and bells are among the many instruments played as happy tones were sounded all year long.

Sna crew did a spectacular job this year. Most people think the custodial staff's only function is to clean, but that's not true. They do much more than that. They repair broken furniture and minor damage to the campus, and do some of the plant maintenance. They work until late night, and sometimes have to clean rooms twice because of use by the Escondido adult school.

With the change to closed campus, the job of feeding many hungry students increased drastically. However, with true Cougar staff pride, our cafeteria crew showed the tradition of excellence found at EHS by preparing plenty of hot and tasty lunch meals. Not only are they here early to cook fresh meals for our campus, but they also prepare some of the items for San Pasqual and Orange Glen and send it over to them. We should thank both the custodians and cafeteria workers for the important job they do.

Obnoxious hat - a favorite

Noisemaker - a variety of sounds come out

Loud Hawaiian shirt - to match personality

Dancing equipment - partner required

Flojos - to get down

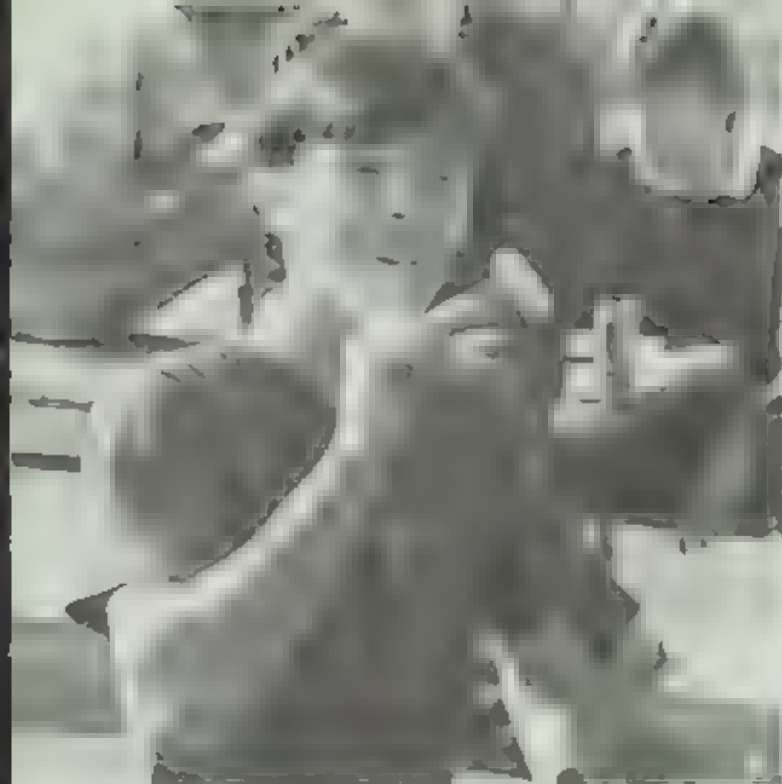

Party survival kit

Ghetto blaster - never without it

Motivation: Wine, women and song
Personal Credo - No man parties on the time!

Turn-ons: Attention
Turn-offs: Mornings
Hot spots: Anywhere the party animals are

Vocabulary: 'Let's party, dude'
Ideal date: Another party

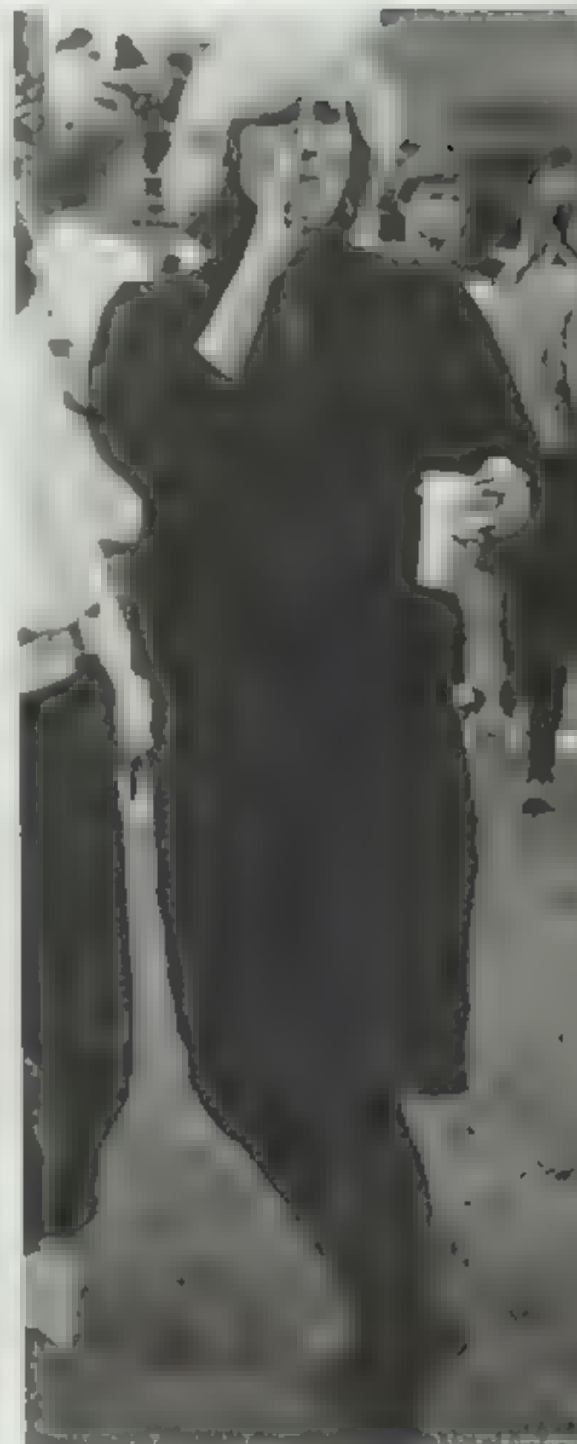

- A Tim Wiley removes food from his teeth before giving Down Dunn a kiss good-bye
- B Being a carnivore is something Byron Ellison takes to heart
- C Paul Pettross shuffles along to class after lunch
- D Kathy Mink shows the Seniors how to pick up a prom date
- E Steve Pratt, Brad Drinkward, Jeff Roedel, Huy Nguyen, Frank Lopez, and Craig Harvey eye a soon to be freshman victim
- F A group of students gather in protest of Coach Snyder's firing

Party! Although student life covers many events that happen regularly, this week is all about me to release the tensions of the previous week. To be with your friends, and be crazy. Our class was going to get up when we got a letter announcing a weekend fest. We didn't expect it was what the seniors were at the time. Remember how in the past, the seniors used to have a water fight on the day. We didn't get to go to the festival, but we had a good time indoors, and the fun continued there. What a way to relax until the next week of Student Life began.

Student Activities

Every school is filled with the hustle and bustle of every day life. This is what makes each school so different. At E.H.S. the students take special pride in the things they do. Each student will have a different opinion on how to spend their lunch hour, but they all agree on one point - fun. Fun is what makes school the perfect place to make friends and to enjoy yourself. It's important to enjoy the activities E.H.S. has to offer, and we have some of the best. Dances, pep rallies, music, outside food, they all bring the school that special charm, and E.H.S. students took advantage of every one of them.

- A. Lunch time activities included a dance sponsored by After Dark with the help of D.J. Ted La Solvia.
- B. Heather Oliver spreads plenty of gossip at the Senior Bar B-Que.
- C. "Let's munch", say Seniors Chris Persinger and Kristine Handley.
- D. Seniors Anna Estrada enjoys a fun filled lunch hour.
- E. The big activity of the freshmen class was the chance to "Lime the E".
- F. The dating game made a perfect match with Maggie Lizalde and Ricky Vargas.
- G. The school's lunch dances were livened up by Sanford, a great After Dark dancer.
- H. The Varsity football team had their best times at the football game.
- I. Junior Varsity cheerleaders Shannon Magee and Debbie Huber receive some tips from Varsity cheerleader Julie Van Dyke.

Changes

The 86-87 school year was a year of many changes at EHS. Two new administrators were introduced: Mrs. Jackie Nichols (principal) and Dr. Charles Leaf (assistant principal). Mrs. Patricia Roach replaced Mrs. Kathy Secan as the counselor for students whose last name falls between F and L. A new lunchtime store was added to our lovely campus by DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America). In addition, all students wishing to leave the classroom during a class period must have a "hall pass". More security guards have been hired to check all students for hall passes. Head Football Coach Denny Snyder was released from his duties, and Coach Chick Embry has applied for the position. In addition to Coach Snyder's release was the resignation of ASB Advisor Mike Moreno. His position was filled by Wrestling Coach and World Geography teacher, Clay Clifford. Also, starting at the beginning of the second semester, any student wishing to participate in any extra curricular activity must have at least a "C" grade point average.

- A. Jackie Nichols and Charles Leaf prepare for another busy day.
- B. Patricia Roach does well at her new counseling position.
- C. DECA store workers Lisa Salas, ~~also there~~ Patti Rodriguez, Jenny Martinez, Josh Gordon, Sommon Sitakel, ~~and Duane~~ Eric Yarde, and Jim ~~Wells~~ prepare for the ~~new school year~~.
- D. ~~Bella~~ ~~Hemingway~~ excuses herself from class with her hall pass.

Red Ribbon Day

A group of students held hundreds of ribbons that were handed out on Red Ribbon Day. They gave them out to everyone who asked for them.

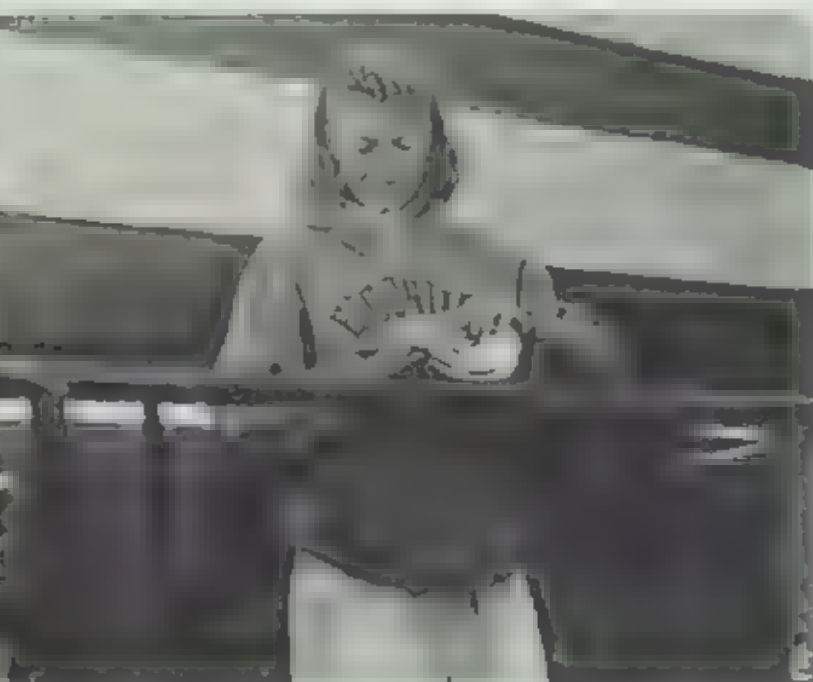

A group of students and teachers gave the order to the students to wear red ribbons.

The students were told that EHS was not to be used for drug use.

The students were told that EHS was not to be used for drug use.

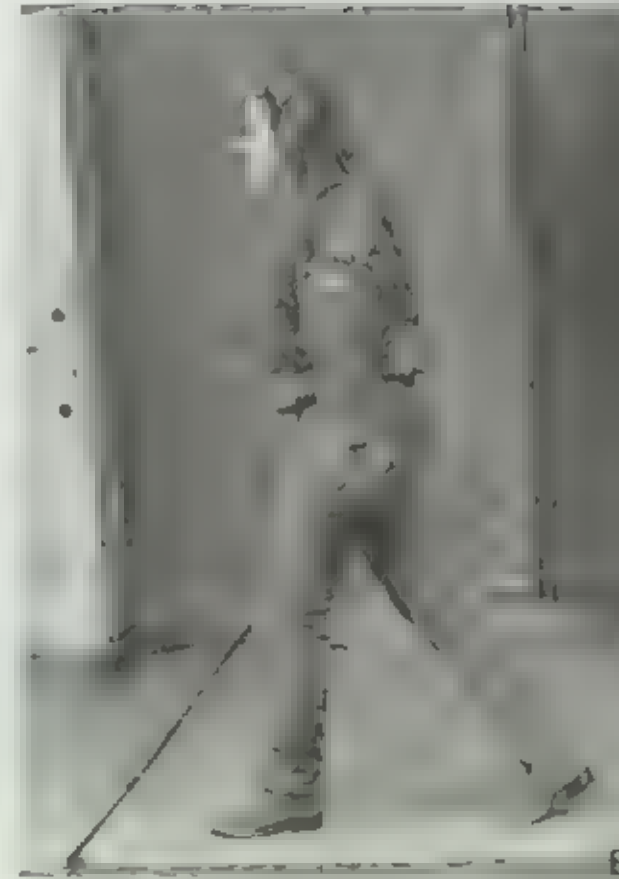

The students were told that EHS was not to be used for drug use.

Red Ribbon week came in full force to EHS. Students supported the "say NO to drugs" campaign by wearing red ribbons. Everywhere you looked, there were ribbons signaling the desire to end substance abuse. The ASB even went to ATI, our "adopt a school" parent company, and handed out ribbons to the employees. The building was decorated with red balloons, red ribbons and red bows that were tied to every railing, tree, shrub and car in the area. Former Padre star Nate Colbert spoke to the students about not using drugs. Hopefully the awareness gained that week will keep students who don't take drugs from starting, and more importantly maybe some students who do, will stop.

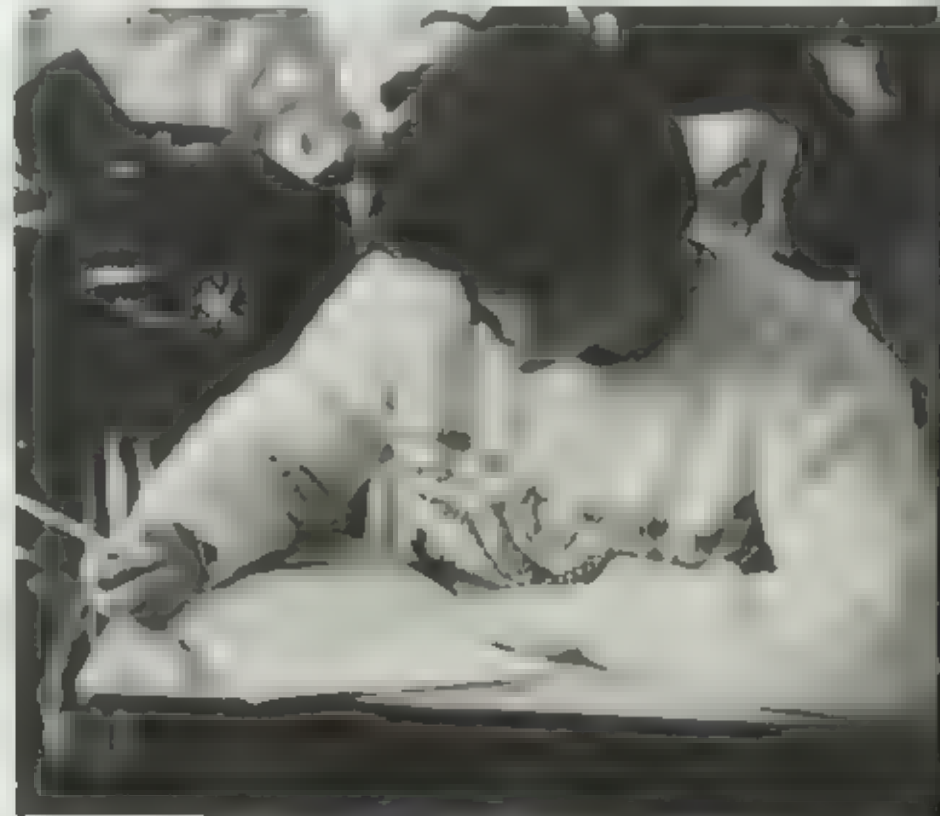

Life at EHS

A regular morning for an EHS student starts with our first conflict, the student parking lot. Not noticing the spilt coffee on our shirts or the doughnut crumbs on our chins, we try to find the best parking space we can. Then the race is on with students running in every direction to get to class on time. But as class starts, we settle in and put our noses to the grindstone. Staying awake during first period is hard for some. The desks here seem almost as comfortable as our own beds this early in the morning. By lunch most students have returned to the land of the living and are hard at work at their favorite subject, socializing. Whether they eat on the greentop or in a classroom, food and friends are always present. Then lunch is over and it's back to work. Sixth period is spent making plans for after school. Students spend seventh period on the edge of their seats, waiting with anticipation for the final bell, signifying the end of another grueling day. Then they're off! Exultant shouts and excited chatter ring in the halls, as everyone races to his car or ride. School is over for the day or weekend, but it's only a temporary respite. All too soon it's back to the same old routine.

- A. Michelle Bongiorno does what comes naturally to her during a day at EHS.
- B. J.J. Ruffner caught on the way to her next class.
- C. Beverly Blue and Lisa Cregger discuss the latest gossip at lunch.
- D. Anna Estrada, Christina Cregger and Yvonne Pummill take a break from their busy yearbook work to relax.
- E. Lori Scott puts sincere effort into writing copy for the yearbook.

What's Your Best Excuse?

Jim Kelly - Honest mom, we were just doing homework!

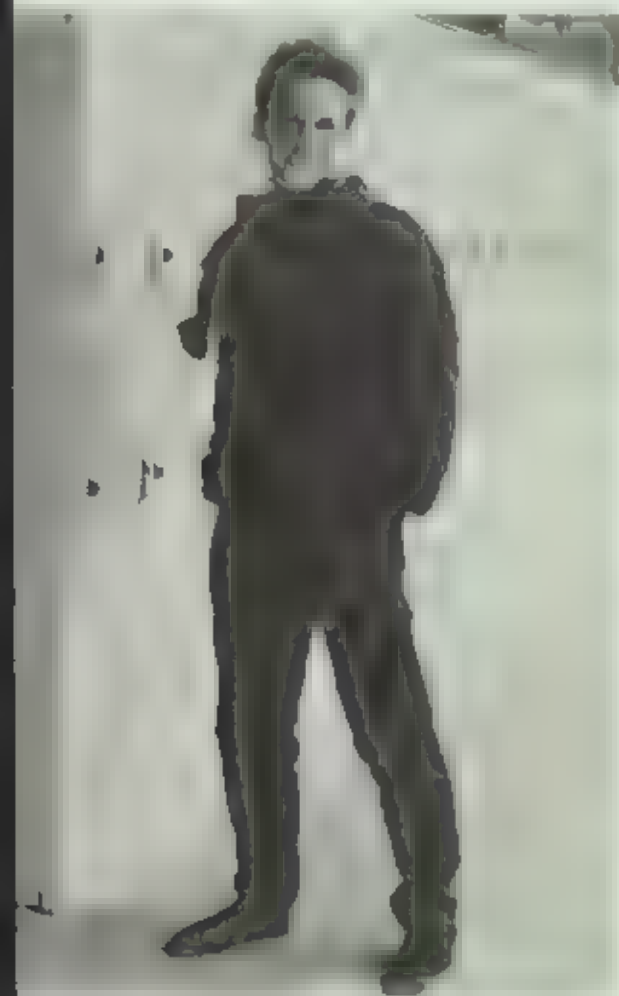

Eva Shinnerl - But mom, there's 20% alcohol in my mouthwash, I swear.

Angela Covey - I'm not writing notes, it's a new type of English

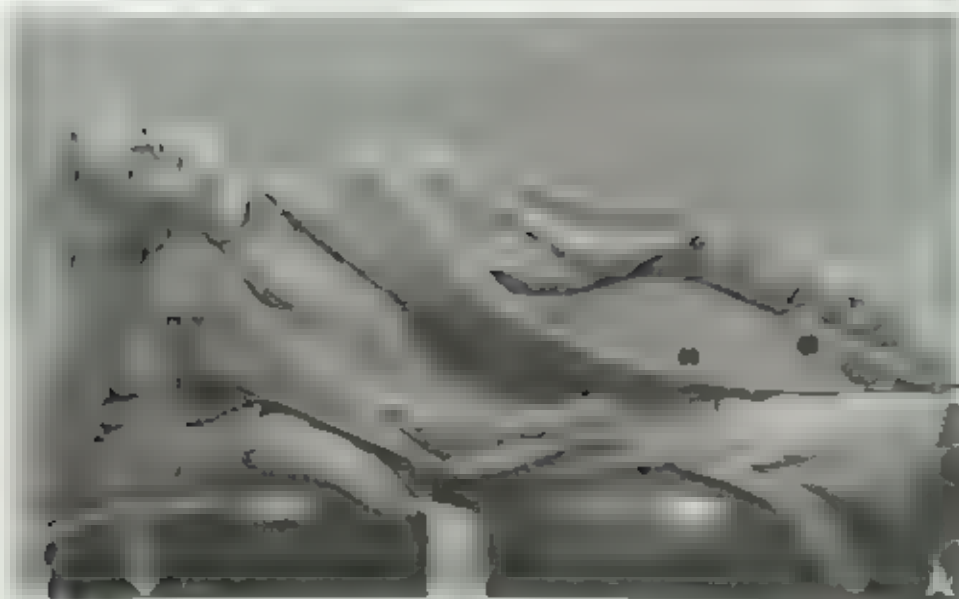

Paul Pettross - No mom, I was talking to my teacher and doing homework because I enjoy it very much

Amy Hagadorn - I have to leave every day at lunch to change my grandma's I.V. bottle.

Sam Medcalf - I haven't been coming to school because my psychiatrist says it's too stressful

 Best Movie: Top Gun

Each school has it's own teachers, it's own parking lot, and it's own fads and favorites. Again this year, the Gong conducted a survey to see what were the most popular trends. The survey proved that the students at EHS are willing to share their ideas on that matter. The number of responses were outstanding and so were the results. Check it out! Do you agree?!

- A. EHS students voted to lounge around this in casual clothes by such designers as Guess Etc.
- B. Favorite star Tom Cruise quickly grew in popularity by starring in your best movie "Top Gun" "The Color of Money"
- C. Not only did you continue to love the sound of Oingo Boingo, but you enjoyed their concert well

Currents

The students at EHS discovered that more goes on around us than we may think. While we listened to the sounds of Oingo Boingo on New Year's Eve, the nation was in the middle of a crisis of huge proportions. At the beginning of the second semester, while we were bouncing around in our high tops, San Diegan Dennis Conners was bouncing across the finish line. Though EHS is our own little world, there's a big world going on around us all the time

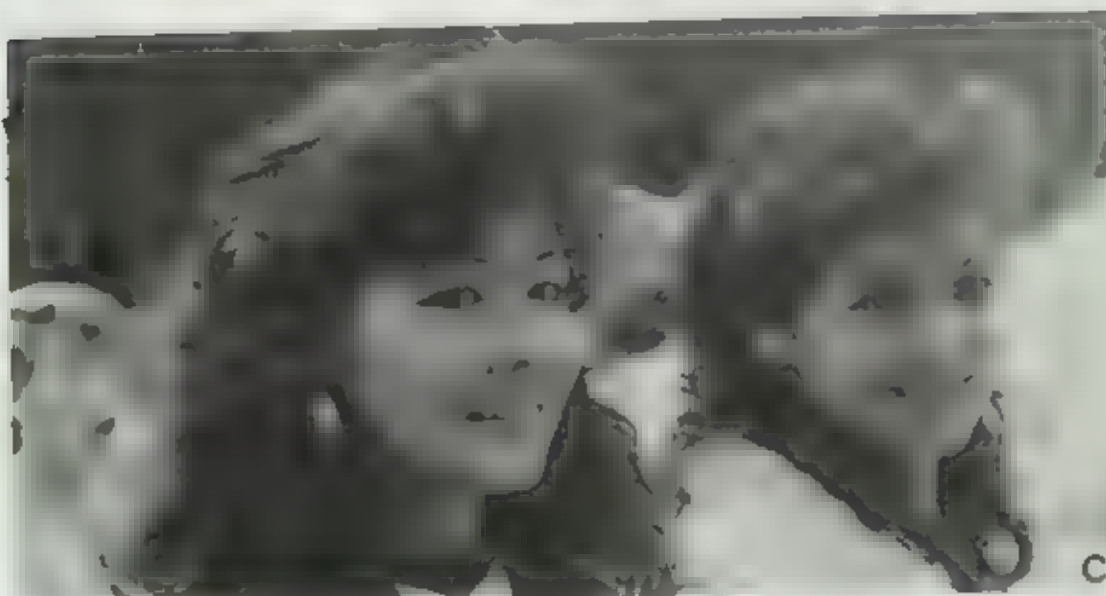

- A The rock world went wild with the comeback of the Monkees. Fans young and old took "The Last Train to Clarksville" to heart once again
- B The country was shocked by the announcement of an arms deal between Libya and the U.S. Many of the President's staff resigned under duress
- C Winning four consecutive races, Dennis Conners and the crew of "The Stars and Stripes" brought the America's Cup back home from "Down Under" the noses of Ian Murray and Kookaburra III

A.S.B. Officers

The backbone of E.H.S. is the A.S.B. officers. They are in charge of organizing activities for lunch, sponsoring special fund-raisers after-game dances, outside food, and basically keeping the student body happy. This year's A.S.B. was very successful and set a good example for future A.S.B. officers.

A. A.S.B. Officers. Row 1: Amarion Craden (treasurer), Jennifer Stacy (senior), Spencer Plazene (president). Lee Pearson (vice president).
 B. Dawn Dunn and Jennifer Roszko (senior of A.T.).
 C. Seniors Adriana Ham and Andrea Aquino enjoyed the A.S.B.'s dances during lunch.
 D. "I love the chance to dance with all the guys" says Junior Mike Royce.

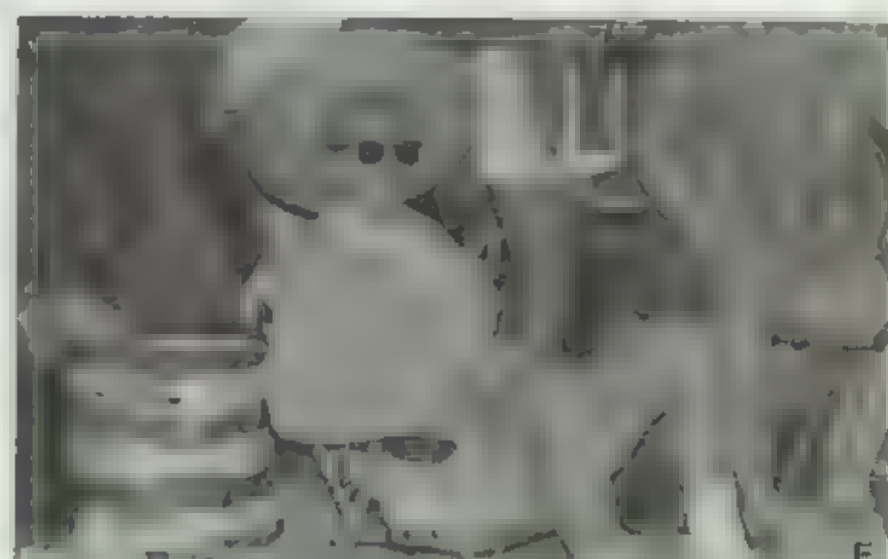

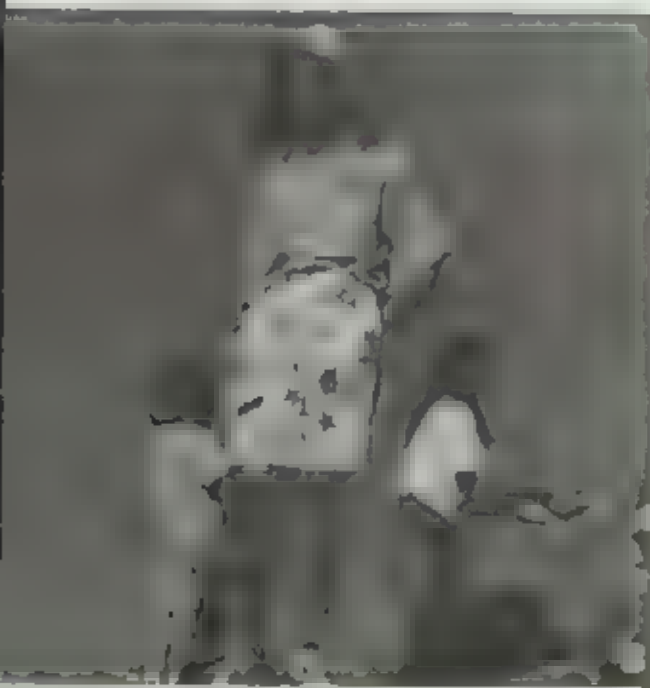

A.S.B. Leadership

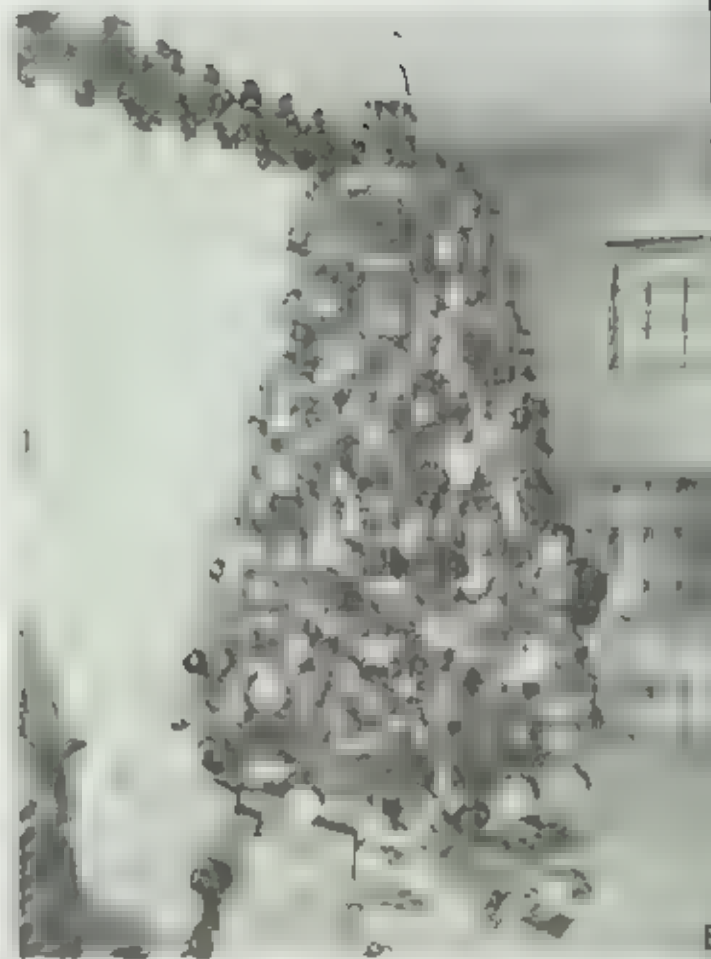

The A.S.B. leadership group is responsible for helping the officers with detailed plans. Each member of the leadership group is assigned an activity to organize. There are several dance organizers including the music and decorations departments. Without the leadership group the officers could not perform all the time consuming tasks they are involved with.

- A Row 1 Scott Weedman, Julie Van Dyke, Sher Ellerbe, Katie Shuga, Jenny Schweibold. Row 2 Jeff Roedel, Mike Scales, Eric Hayes, Julie Henderson, Luke Briggs, Lee Pearson, Stephanie Wash, Janet Panter, Brent Lincoln, Bobby Crawford, Joel Seaton, Matt Brown.

- C Scott Weedman, Freshman, Brian Foxman, and the A.S.B. leadership group on A.T.I. Sign.
- D Scott Panter helps distribute red ribbons to A.T.I. students.
- E Beau Harmon takes it easy at the A.S.B. convention.

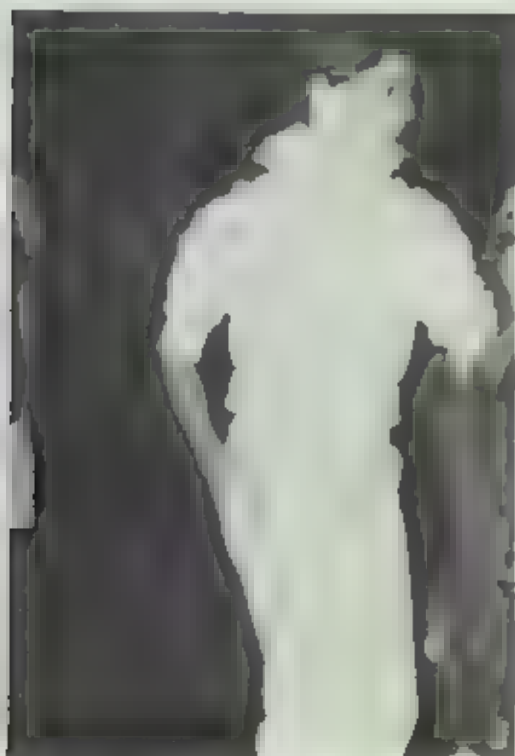

Night Moves

Do you ever just want to start dancing? Do you start to feel the rhythm in your feet? A lot of EHS students went all out and really put in some good moves at the school dances. The music was organized by Jay Farrington. This year's Christmas and Valentine's day dances were the most popular with the students. Not only did the students get the chance to show off, but they also got the opportunity to meet people from EHS that they might not have known. The school dances made a great social out - let this year

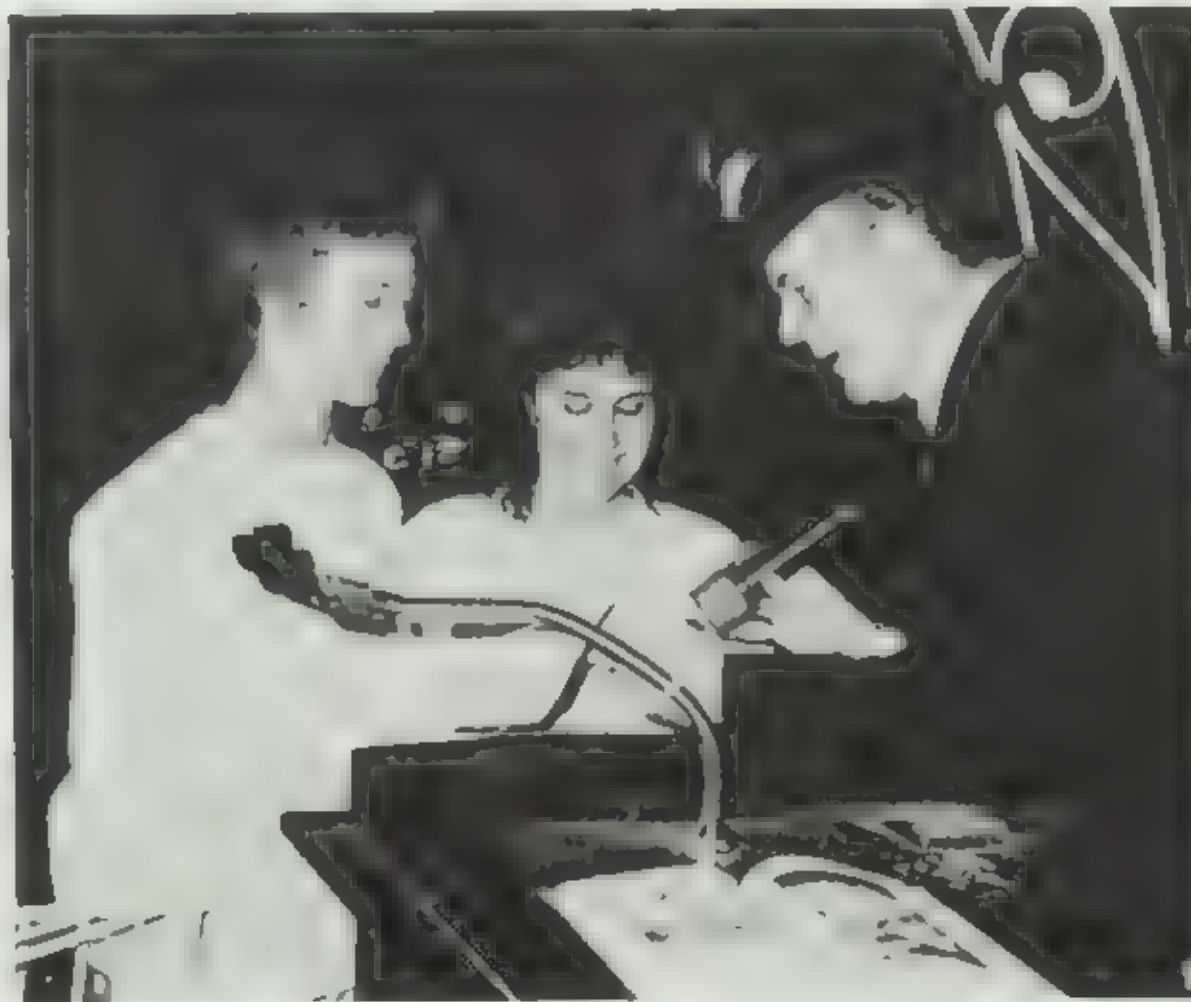

- A. A group of students in the library, looking at books.
- B. Two students sitting on a bench, looking at each other.
- C. A student sitting at a desk, writing in a notebook.
- D. A group of students standing in a line, waiting for something.

Sadie Hawkins

Girls, have you ever felt like turning the tables on the guys? How about a date with the guy you've always admired, but didn't have the nerve to talk to? Well, the Sadie Hawkins Dance will always be your chance to capture that once in a lifetime date with "Mr. Wonderful." This year the FFA did a fabulous job at putting on the Sadie's Dance. In years to come Sadie's should continue to be a one of a kind dance.

Powder Puff

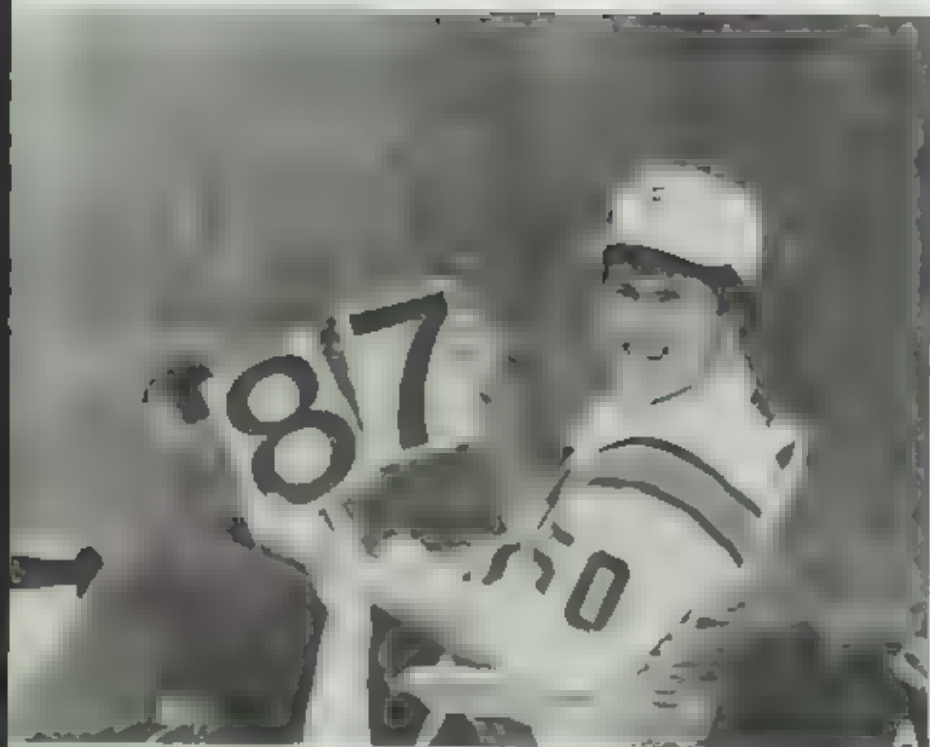

In previous years, many girls would have to miss practice for the spring sport in order to practice for the powder puff game. That irritated some coaches. Also an injury during the powder puff game could mean a girl would be out of her sport for the remainder of the season. Therefore, this year the game wasn't played until June 5th. Following tradition the seniors defeated the juniors in but another down-right dirty game of football. All's fair in love and war. The guys used their own form of encouragement by becoming the newest Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders. This took a lot of hard work and determination on the parts of our beloved "new" cheerleaders. They learned how to walk, talk, and cheer like our regular cheerleaders. It was a fulfilled game and a wild experience.

- A. Seniors, Millie Aguilar, Andrea Aguilar, and Noemi Lizalde, teach juniors, Magi Aguilar and Dianna Gruber, a few tricks for next year's game.

Senior Day

Through the generosity of some trusting people the seniors were given permission to participate in an off campus activity. They all boarded onto three buses and headed for Scripps's Institute of Oceanography for an informative field trip. Scripps's just happens to be a few hundred yards from La Jolla Shores where most of the research was done! The class picture was taken on the beach. People brought signs and posters expressing their thoughts and feelings for the moment. It was a day filled with lots of laughs and fun. We hope next year's seniors have the opportunity to express their feelings off-campus as well.

Pep Rallies

Pep Rallies play an important role in school athletics. At pep rallies, the Cougar teams receive ample amounts of motivation over and above that given to them by the coaches. Cheered on by hundreds upon hundreds of fans, our Cougar teams are given the support they need in order to have a positive attitude toward athletics, and to have an incentive to win. For Cougar fans, pep rallies are much more than a break from the drags of classroom studies. Pep rallies are an opportunity to wave your colors, shout your pride, and help build the unity of Escondido High School.

Ever wonder what keeps EMS's spirit alive? It's our cheerleaders, of course. Between chilly football games and crazy pep rallies, the cheerleaders keep our spirits high and our pride glowing. They travel about the county supporting our football, basketball and other sport teams wherever they go. Dynamic energy and high flying stunts accompanied every event. Varsity and J V alike show their spirit by dressing in black and orange on Fridays. Their routines were executed with precision and skill, and their yells were louder and more spirited than ever. Without our cheerleaders support and enthusiasm, school spirit would never be the same. The word spirit seems to have acquired a new synonym this year - cheerleader.

A cheerleader Mary Ross said that she loves being a cheerleader because she gets to be part of something special. She said that she loves the excitement of the games and the support of the fans. She said that she loves the feeling of being part of a team and the pride of representing the school. She said that she loves the energy and the spirit of the cheerleaders and the fans. Pride is one of the essential building blocks behind every school. Here at FHS we worked a year long to encourage the pride in spirit that a school's new stages of Cougar pride could be found throughout campus. It was a great first year. The A.S.B. sponsored frequent spirit breakfasts which were always attended by supportive students. Their activities which helped promote Cougar spirit were a variety of activities such as the Faring Game and the After Dark Dance. However the spirit which we have promoted the most in a spirit was the energy of the F. Football games were great occasions. Every game was filled with students and parents who cheered and applauded for our mighty Cougars. The tradition of Orange and Black was a great demonstration of school spirit in action. We were very proud to have our students on game days. Cougars showed their pride and love for their team. The A.S.B. worked themselves in promoting school spirit. However they were not the only ones in our spirited process. We the students of Everett High School are the substance and the roots of Cougar spirit.

Spirit Week

Was the strange side of you dying to come out this year? Did you long for a change? Many people used Spirit Week as their opportunity to come out of the closet. A few changes were made in this year's Spirit Week line-up. Pumpkin Scum Day began the week. Fifty-Fifty was changed to Decade Day. Commando Day entered the line-up with skepticism, so some people arbitrarily changed it to Toga Day. One would have thought they were at Disneyland on Tourist Day, which still remains a strong favorite. Halloween fell on Friday this year, so Orange and Black Day joined the festivities on the 31st. The favorite Halloween costumes this year were a pickle (worn by freshman Gina Asbury) and "The Little Rascals" Buckwheat (senior Mark Marques). The ASB was successful in the Homecoming activities, where people were able to take a break from their everyday dresswear and become a bit extraordinary.

Homecoming Activities

Homecoming provided many special activities for the students of LHS. This year ASB returned many traditions of the past and created some new and exciting ones. Decorating the football field with a variety of signs and ribbons contributed to the excitement of Homecoming. The return of the Homecoming float saw students working diligently on its completion. The Homecoming half-time show was filled with students in their best Halloween costumes parading around the field, a multitude of fireworks, and our sparkling Homecoming court. The successful night had alumni and current Cougars united with pride and memories. The formal night of dining and dancing created an air of excitement around campus. The Homecoming dance was a tremendous success. The A.S.B. supplied drinks, cake and ice cream. The gym was decorated to the hilt. The addition of a patio at the dance was used by many of the couples who attended. The overwhelming attendance at the dance helped complete the successful Homecoming weekend. Thanks to everyone who helped make the 1986 Homecoming one of the best activities of the school year.

- A. The dance was full of lovely couples, such as Angela Rumsey and her escort Ted King
- B. This year's homecoming dance not only offered great fun, but free food as well
- C. The freshmen get hands-on experience lining the 'E

The class of '87. That sounds great to all the seniors right? Well, it does, except that we don't think it's at least for high school. Hopefully, we can get on with our lives to get a job or go to college. Your Senior year was a great year. Sure, it was a bit of a struggle, but it was a great year. However, the party went on. After all, it was a great year. You seniors, you know you back a bit, but you lived through them, or found ways to go around them! The Seniors of '87 will never forget the time spent here at EHS, for better or for worse, it was worth it.

The Dating Game

During the 85-87 year, many more lunchtime activities were planned than in previous years. To liven up lunch, not to mention students social lives, the dating game was brought to our campus. The game was played in the same manner as the popular game show on TV. Some participants volunteered just for the fun of it, while others were desperate for a date over the weekend. Although no new couples were formed, some underclassmen had the opportunity to experience what it was like to date a "senior."

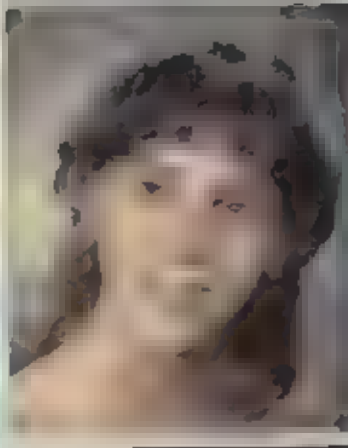

Don't know who the winning date was? Well, the winning date was...

Gossip

What do you do when your best friend just told you one of their innermost secrets? Do you keep it? Are you just itching to tell someone? There are different ways to gossip at EHS. There's locker room talk, jack talk, and classroom gossip. We're always trying to get the scoop on what is going on, or who the hottest new couples are, but not least, the one who always gets more than an ear full. Nothing has stopped the constant spreading of gossip. It travels around campus like the fastest spreading of any vulnerable student. Though usually transferred orally, other modes include handwritten notes, and of course the telephone (that your parents thought was good for your ear). There seems to be no hope for it, ever, since there's always more, and faster ways to spread around.

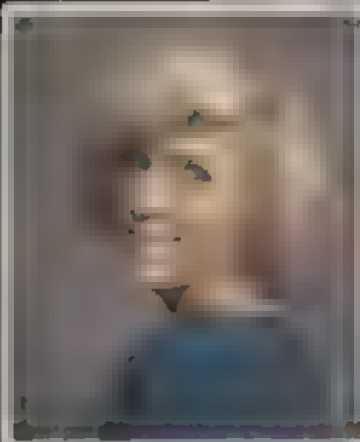

Maybe Linda whispers the latest new gossip to Christy Fredrickson.

Junk Food

A student's life is very hectic, and despite what most parents and teachers believe, breakfast always seemed to be at the bottom of most teenage priority lists. By the time second period would roll around, our stomachs would embarrass us by making some weird noise. When the bell rang we were ready to head for the nearest vending machine or snack window for our favorite type of junk food. In fact, most seniors' diets consist of total junk food from morning 'til night. And what is a better energizer for doing homework than mass munchies. The seniors this year had a chance to voice their opinion of what they thought was their #1 junkfood. (COKE was the #1 drink)

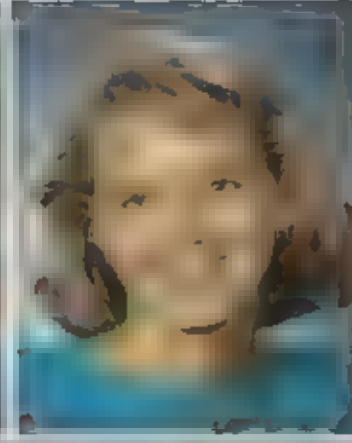

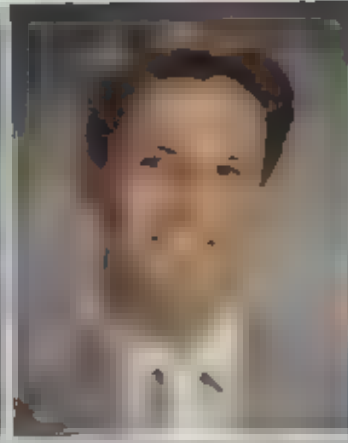

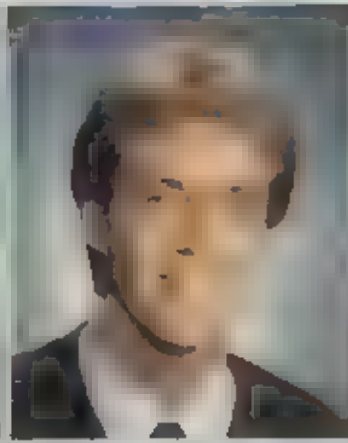

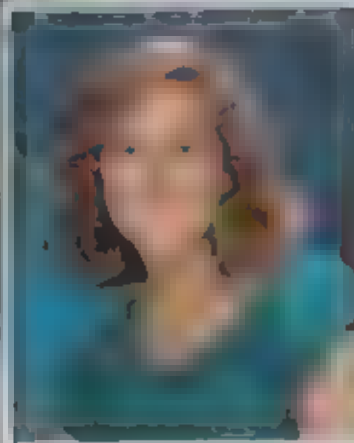

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-------------|
| 1. PIZZA | 6. M & M's |
| 2. WHOPPER | 7. DORITOS |
| 3. CHOCOLATE CHIP ICE CREAM | 8. BROWNIES |
| 4. FRENCH FRIES | 9. REESE'S |
| 5. SNICKERS | |

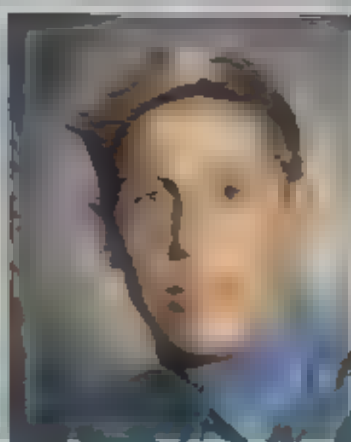

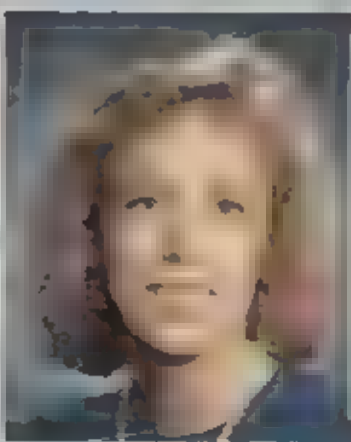

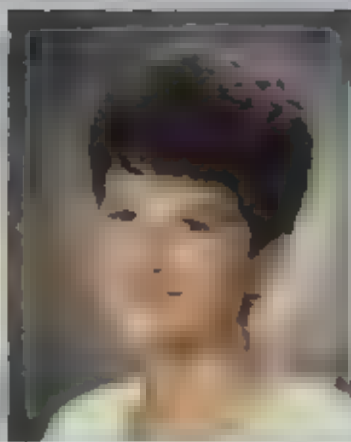

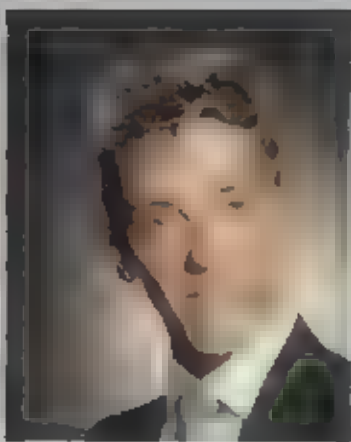

After reporting on especially junky junk food students, Jeff Beards says, "It's the good stuff."

(Heard's limited research showed that most students' diets consist of grease, starch, and sugar)

Congratulations "Luly"! You finally made it! Wish you the best of luck in your future. Take care. Love always,
Mom

Stacey Hembree
Congratulations Stace! You made it. I'm so proud of you. I knew you could do it. It has been a long, rough four years, but it was worth it all. Now it's off to college for four more. Continue to be the beautiful, determined, individual you are. Love ya lots,
Mom

Karen Hope
We are blessed to have you as our daughter. Congratulations on a job well done! Love,
Dad & Mom

Nicol L. Hunter
Punkin, we're so very proud of you. Now that you have finished one education, another is just beginning. Don't ever change. You're wonderful and a joy to our heart, Josh 24:14. Love,
Mom, Dad, & Robby

Michael Jackson
Mikie, you know we love you very much and are so proud of you. Keep up the good work! Stay happy. Love you,
Mom, Dad, Jimbo, & Dave

Susan Janovitz
We anxiously awaited your arrival on Sept. 26, 1969, then there you were, our first grandchild. We've enjoyed watching you grow especially when you came to me and said, "you saw a hoppergrass on the flower." Proudly we watched you march in the parade with the band. Then your first car and the beginning of more independence for you. Now, there are more challenges and greater goals. We wish you all the best for your future. Love,
Grandma & Grandpa

Susan Janovitz
Congratulations! With all our love and support for your growing future. Love,
Mom & Dad

Robbie Johnson
To my son the runner, to my son the writer, to my son the soccer player, to my son the actor, you have made us proud. Never lose your zest for life.
Mom & Dad

Gary Kinch

We are so proud of you. I hope life will always be good to you. We love you.
Mom, Dad, & Dean

Shaun Koch

You're the best friend a mom could have. It's been tough, and your inner strength has kept us both going at times. But you're a winner and I've always known, as I do now, that you can do anything you set your mind to. I am behind you 100% and I love you
Mom

The junior class of '88 put forth a lot of effort to get to be one of the most outstanding groups of students on campus. Increasing graduation requirements and the P.S.A.T. exam posed intense academic challenges. Homework and grades suddenly became more important, as they wanted to carry good momentum into their final year.

Activities kept the juniors busy when not studying as they worked and participated for the big last year of '88. The powder puff game was a highlight. Fate's never on the junior side however, but the spirit was outstanding and they put up a good fight. The entire junior class will be more than ready to become a great senior class.

Couples

A Michael Myates and Johnny Diaz isolate themselves from the lunchtime crowd to share a romantic moment.

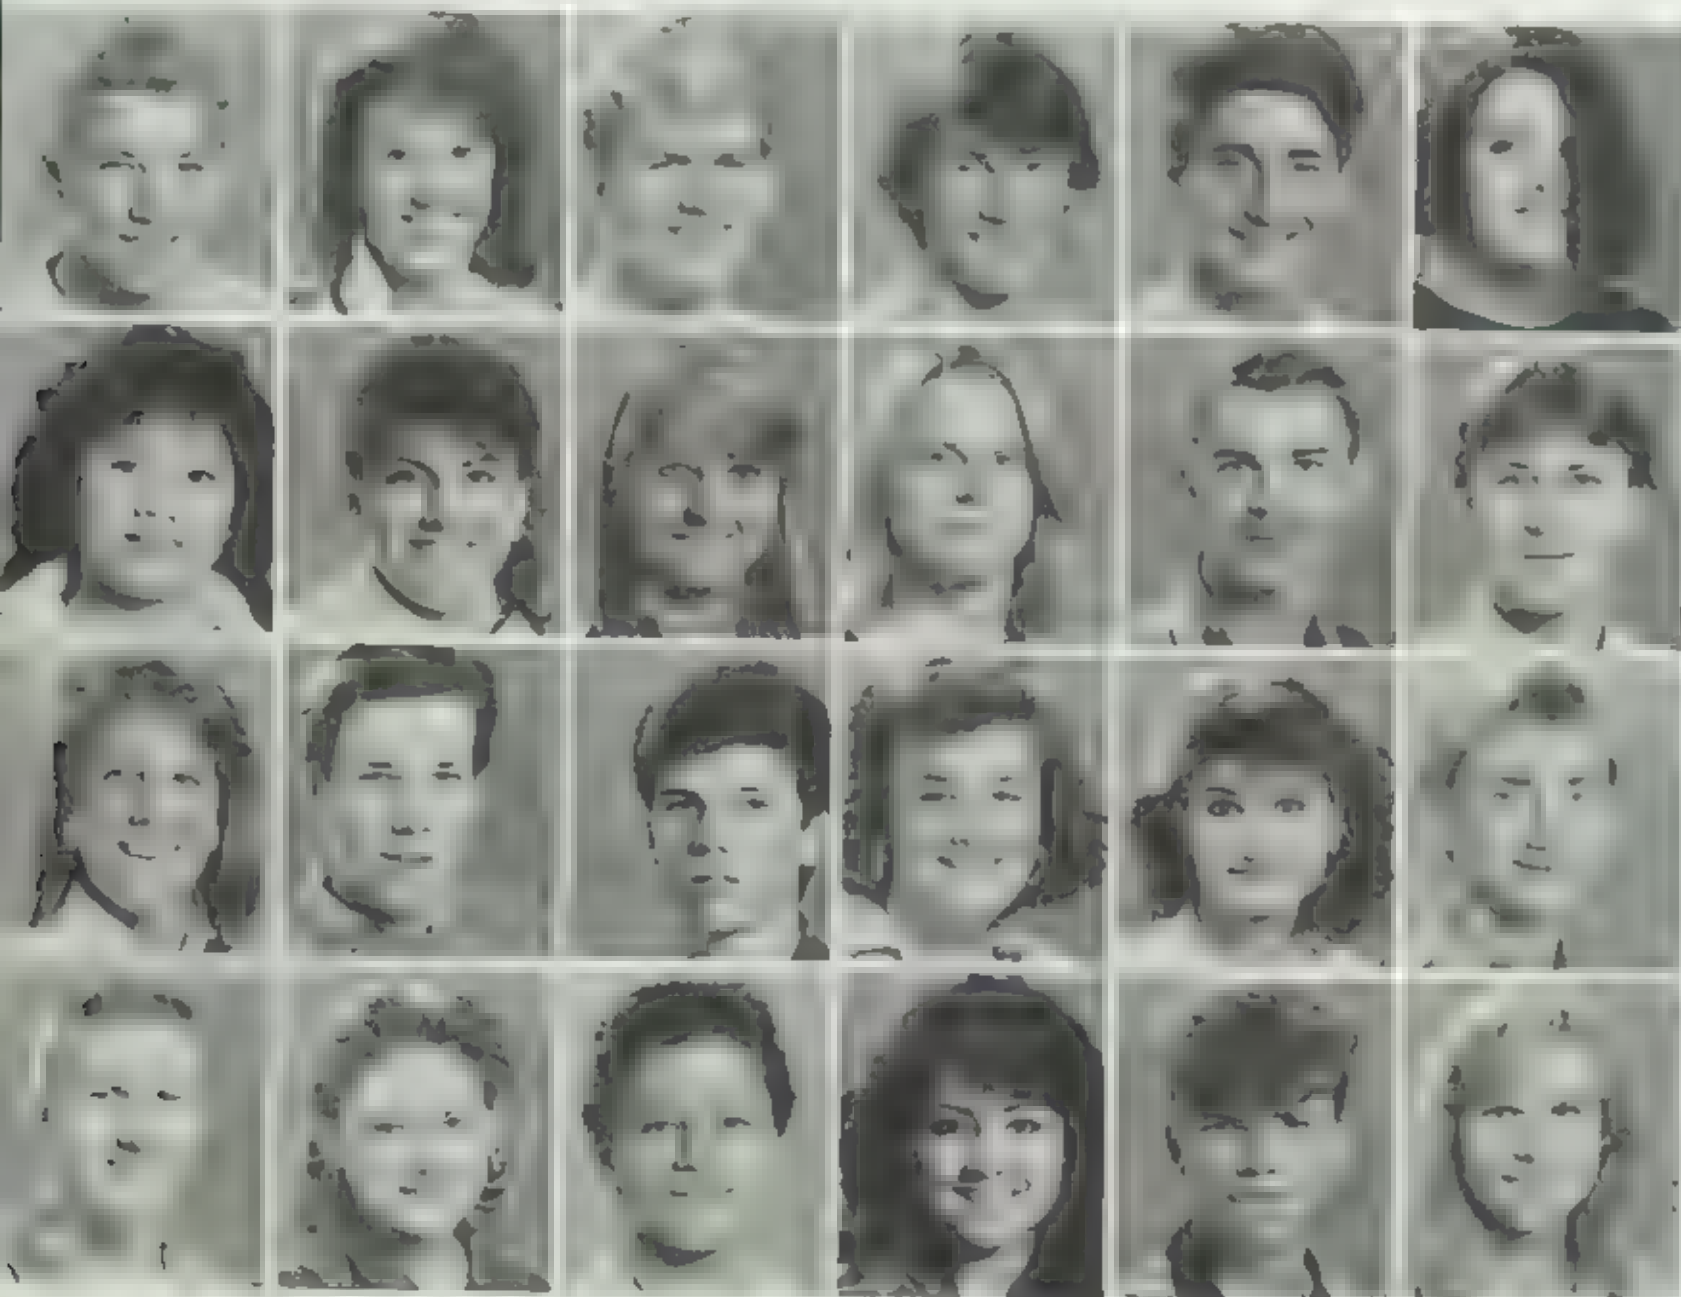

The passing period provides a short time together for Chris Zarate and Tracy Heim.

During high school, many of us have experienced that "first love", and we were not sure if it was right or wrong.

Whether it was a new friendship, or an old one struck by Cupid's arrow, we all enjoyed the romance while it lasted.

Many special moments were shared. We watched sunsets over the ocean, went to dances, at at home, just found places, or just spent time alone together.

Although we don't know most of these relationships, we always hold a special place in our hearts for the memories of that someone special.

Weekend Life

For the students who watch the clock, the last ten minutes of 7th period on a Friday are the longest of the week. Finally, the bell rings and the weekend begins.

The weekend never seems to hold enough time for the things we want to do. The night life is usually busy with football games, movies, parties, or dancing at the local hot spots. The days are usually spent at the beach, with girls getting tan as they watch the guys surf. Shopping with friends is a great alternative if the weather is cloudy. Some people however, prefer gathering with a group of friends to catch up on the latest gossip. With all of these activities going on it's no wonder that many students leave their homework until late Sunday night. Much to the teacher's dismay, it usually shows.

Juniors At Work

The junior year of high school is a very special one with its unforgettable relationships and good times. But much of the year is used to prepare for college. Homework and class participation can lead to hours studying. As the workload increases, the library becomes a second home for those who are serious about their future.

Students learn to budget their time by doing things that will benefit them in the long run. Social hours are no longer spent on the phone, but instead are often replaced with other activities. Jobs, sports, and A.S.B. involvement get squeezed in between schoolwork. They prove to be time consuming, but they teach students important values needed later in life.

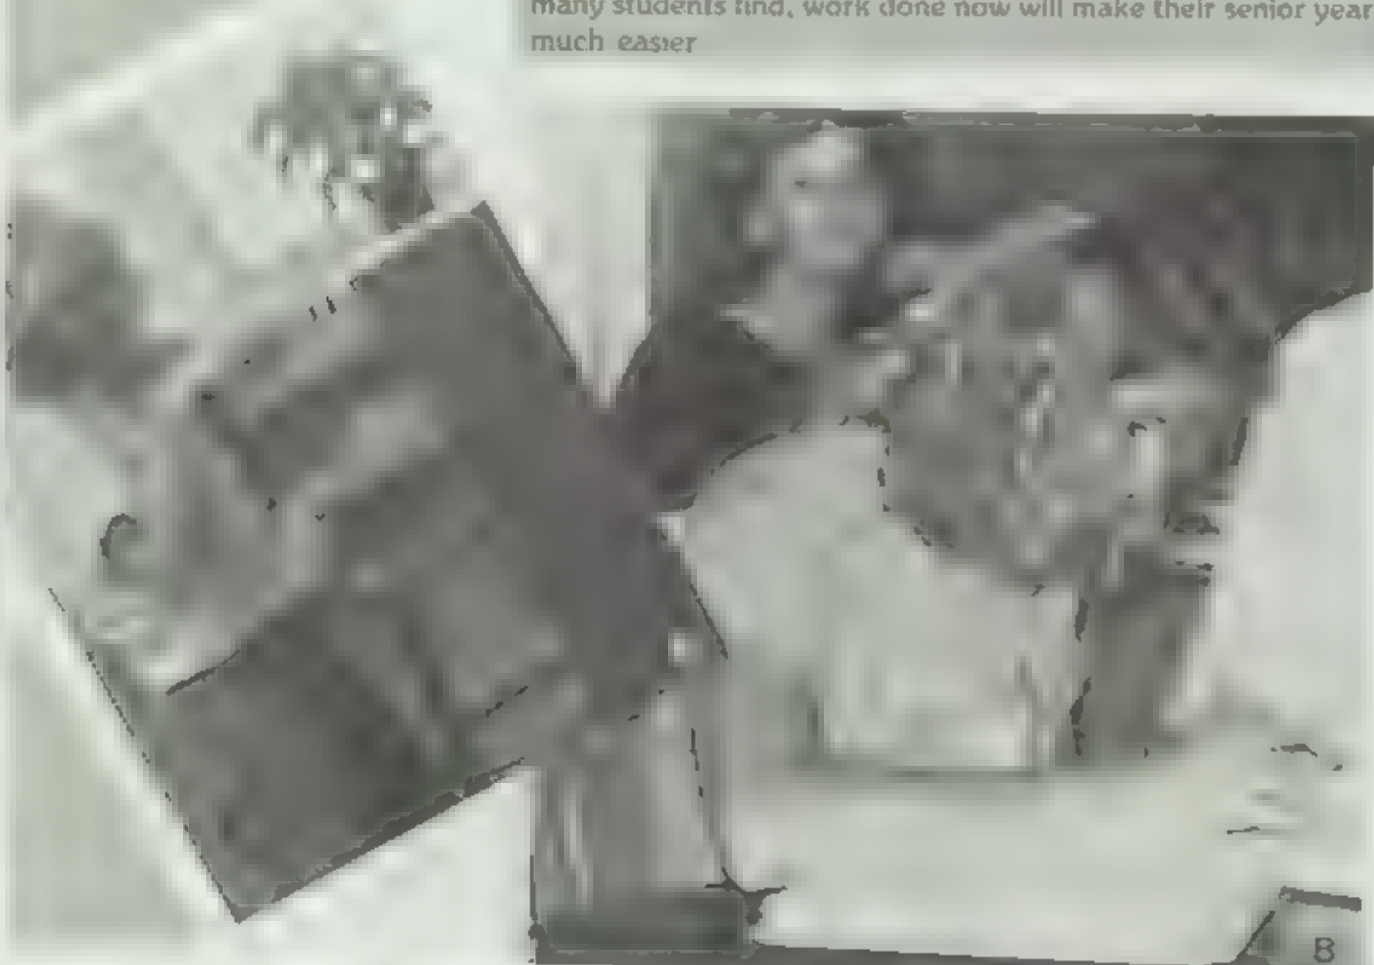

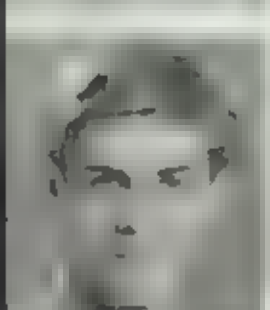

Many juniors find themselves caught up in a whirlwind of excitement that lasts throughout the year. The summer will give way to yet another year of pressures to endure, but as many students find, work done now will make their senior year much easier.

Cramming

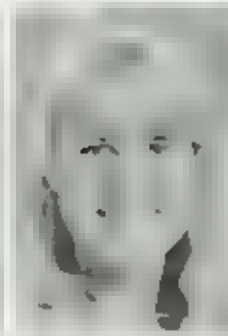

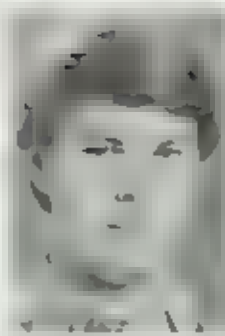

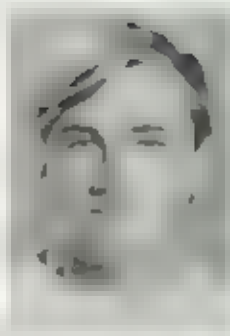

There's a big test tomorrow, but, you just have to go out tonight. So you stay up cramming until 2:00 a.m. the night before the test. Sound familiar? Most of us have found ourselves in that situation. Why do something now, if you can put it off until later? After all, that's the American way!

We all knew that studying should come first, but sometimes it was easier to put it off until the last minute so you could do something more exciting. That is, until we get the big test back with a hideous grade. So we promise ourselves that we'll study next time. A few of us keep our promise and study earlier, but most of us end up cramming again and again.

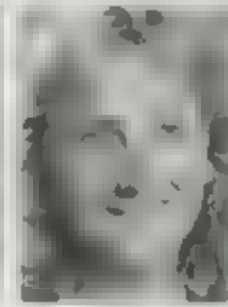

Getting things done early makes life much more peaceful, but remember, that's NOT the American way!

Life Beyond 2:30

By the end of the day, most students are ready to go home, relax, and forget about school. But for some of us, a day's work is only half done. Many students participate in school sports. Others have part time jobs. They may use the money for clothes, dating, or their car. For some, hobbies fill the afternoon hours. Skateboarding and bicycling are two favorites. Some students just like to go over their best friend's house and listen to records, relax, and talk, in order to relieve the stresses of the school day. Many students round out the evening with various amounts of homework. Sometimes students find it necessary to sacrifice sleep to finally get prepared for the next day's return to school.

Your first year in high school is always the hardest. You get the worst classes, the worst lockers, and of course the worst teasing. Coming into your first pep rally and finding yourself set apart from the rest of the classes may have been traumatic. You sometimes had to sit on the floor or just got stuck in a corner. Throughout the pep rally, you heard chants of "Go home Freshmen" from the other side of the gym. Trashcanning was at a minimum this year, but tying freshmen to trees was a new torture by the upperclass. All in all, your freshmen year wasn't that bad, but you can't wait to be a sophomore, now can you?

Library

Most of us used the library some time this year. Sometimes we needed to catch up on our homework, check out a book, or have a quiet place to think.

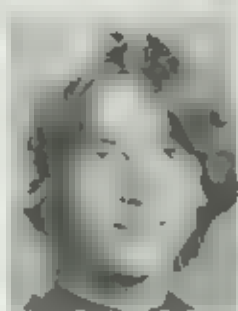

This year our library made a few changes. The main change was a study hall at lunch so students would have a quiet place to study. The students were asked not to talk and to only sit two per table. A xerox machine was added for student use, and also a device to prevent stealing library books. The library keeps adding to its already fine selection of books and provides a pleasant environment to work in.

Daniel Iglesias
Dana Iglesias

Students try to pass notes in secret, but sometimes they get caught. The teacher may read the note aloud to stifle future offenders. Despite the risk, note passing is still prevalent during class.

Most notes are folded in a similar fashion and are addressed with silly nicknames. The messages inside differ greatly. Some contain the latest school gossip. Others are romantic notes sent to that special person. A note may be sent just to cheer someone up. Overall a note is an effective way to express your feelings to another person without talking. Pass all the notes you want - but don't get caught.

Silver Smiles

Bryan Muchgresten exhibits
a huge silver smile

Everyone has experienced, or has known someone who has experienced a "silver smile." Having braces can be tough, and at times it seems like they will never come off. A silver smile has been known for some negative aspects. People who have braces may find the pain bearable, but the teasing much harder to take. Rude nicknames like "tinset teeth" or "railroad tracks" can be very aggravating. Eating food in public places can prove to be quite embarrassing for those who fear getting food caught in their braces. Kissing almost becomes an endangered practice due the possibility of becoming "connected" (Luckily, that rumor has been disband ed and kissing continues through the braces stage).

Finally, the suffering ends in relief when the braces are removed. The results are quite stunning and have been known to change a person's entire appearance. So remember, a few years of torture are well worth a lifetime of a beautiful smile.

Freshmen

WHY BE NORMAN?

The Freshmen were not quite sure what was happening when the bulletin announcement said to show up if you wanted your picture taken 'any way you want' for the yearbook. Few showed during the first part of lunch, but as the idea got around, other groups started to line up for their pictures. Here is what the freshmen had to offer.

- A Tony Mata and Ron Tannison
- B Michelle Mine, Deores Mendoza, and Maria Camacho
- C Jill Handzik, Debbie Galvin, Donna Vuoti, Shelly Johnson, Thao Nguyen, and Tayna Davis

ORGANIZATIONS

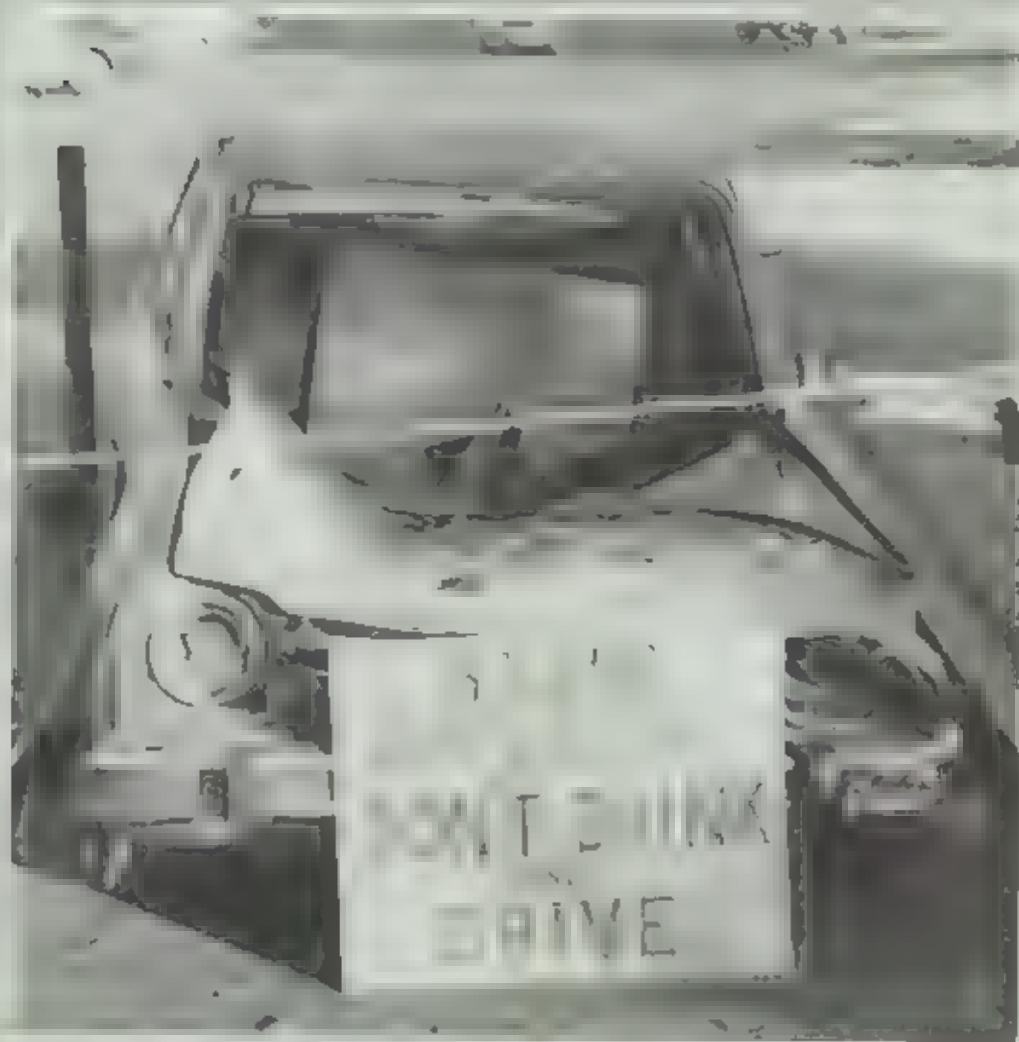

Motivation: To try everything once
Personal Credo: Get involved

Turn-ons: Meeting at lunch
Turn-offs: Spare time
Hot spots: Yearbook room during deadlines

Vocabulary:
 "I've got a meeting"
 "Another fund-raiser?"
Ideal date: A drama play or pep rally

- A ASB president Sheri Ellerbe announces the next cheer during a pep rally vs OG
- B Foreign exchange student Greet Fabri shows how much she loves EHS
- C A holiday message from Safe way
- D During a yearbook photo shoot, Natalie Russell, Denise Lowrie, Steph Asbury, Ailee Baca, and Stacey Hembree are amazingly attracted to Scott "the stud" Magness

Organizations keep school spirit alive for many students who participate in the many offerings of EHS. That's being especially true for members of Safe way, a club to warn students against driving while drunk. Signs of the dangers were posted all over school. The ASB did a great job of leading our student government especially by organizing such nice activities and traffic at spirit events. Yearbook, newspaper, drama, dance, and many other events were all fun during this year. Many clubs now hold their meetings at the same time since everyone was around anyway. Some active students were so involved they had to split meetings to attend more than one club one day. Let's hope the enthusiasm never runs out because clubs make an important part of our campus life.

Drama

One of the best ways to show your stuff is on stage. The EHS drama department, headed by Bob Johnson, put forth a wonderful display of showmanship this year. What makes a production a success is not only talent but work and more work. The endless rehearsals prove to pay off when the curtains rise on opening night. Every individual put their best foot forward to bring out the best in all. The One Acts and A Christmas Carol were two outstanding productions. Each line was filled with emotion and surprise. They stuck together through it all, experienced the lights and applause, and brought forth a great year.

Dance

There's more to dancing than just being light on your feet. It takes skill, determination, and the ever-familiar signs of hard work! Through the pains of injuries and the calls of triumph, the dance team, headed by Jane Rattman, took E.H.S. on an adventure to potential Broadway. The dance concert helped this year's team live some of its dreams. With a lot of hard work and talent, the team gave an excellent performance.

Academic Decathlon

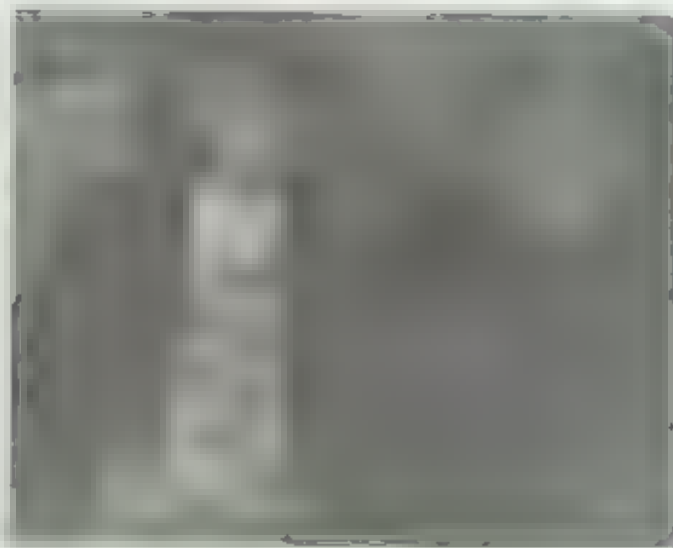

The Academic Decathlon is a group of students putting their academic skills to test in a high pressure county-wide competition. The EHS team, coached by Theron Preston, spent three days at Mr. Preston's cabin at Green Valley Lake studying, as well as enjoying a nice holiday. The team placed in this year's decathlon

DECA

DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) is a new organization to our campus this year. Their goal is to learn how to make and manage a business and its profits. The highlight of the year involved the opening of a DECA student store. They sold a variety of candies and soda pops. This helped the students get hands-on experience at managing a business.

- A. Row 1: Pat Phillips, Tracie Reden, Pam Dala, Christy Schmidt, Lisa Davis, K.C. Kesley, Krysta Canal, Bob Stratton. Row 2: Samone Sitaket, Lara Gagliano, Jennifer Robinson, Heidi Kukman, Brian Bartlett, Daryl McCutcheon, Lisa Salas.
- B. DECA opened up a student store to learn more about business.

Future Business Leaders of America is a new organization that has brought forth a lot of encouragement from the students. It is designed to help further the minds of those who wish to go into the field of business in the future. Their dreams involve making money to support themselves and their future families.

FFA

The Future Farmers of America is one of the largest organizations on campus. It is certainly open and dedicated to the goal of it's members. Students join the club to help further their study of agriculture and promote healthy leadership qualities. Each member participates in competitions such as state finals and the Del Mar Fair.

Cougar

Our school is filled with news every day. The Cougar staff made sure we were informed on what was happening around campus. This year the newspaper took on a new look. Not only did it grow in size, but it was also printed on actual newsprint. The people behind the news gave the paper its strength. The editorials were gutsy and honest. Each feature held interest for everyone. We hold great appreciation to the Cougar staff for covering all sports and on the spot events with precision and honesty. The Cougar is everything a newspaper should be and much more. We'll all remember this year as the year of a new kind of news.

Pep Club

Who's behind the cheerleaders' cheers? Who keeps the spirit at E.H.S. at a record high? Our pep club is behind all the great spirit of our school. Who could do without those outstanding banners and smiling faces? The club holds fundraisers to help pay for supplies. We thank them for their wonderful efforts.

The A.S.B. put forth a strong effort this year to improve things around campus. There were bar-b-ques, dances during lunch, the student store, and outdoor pep rallies to keep the students going. Music was always around during lunch thanks to Jay Farrington and Ricky Vargas. The Homecoming and Christmas dances were the A.S.B.'s best accomplishments. The A.S.B. not only worked for the students, but with them.

Foreign Exchange Students

Foreign exchange students have brought new customs to the borders of our campus. We are also given the opportunity to teach them about our country. This year we had students from Argentina, Belgium, Finland, Turkey, Columbia, and Nicaragua. They were able to meet new people and make many new friends.

Notables

There is nothing more beautiful than a group of voices in complete harmony. At EHS the advanced vocal group, known as the Notables, is an example of true harmony. They work very hard and perform in the community quite often. This year's Noteables once again traveled to the Reno International Jazz Festival. Their performance was outstanding. The Noteables had one of their most promising years.

Marching Band and Flag Corps

An student who wishes to take a more active part in representing their school should join the Flag Corps or the Marching Band. It is a way to show your school spirit while enjoying yourself. The flag corps adds flair to the marching band. The band plays at football games, pep rallies, and competes in parades on occasion. It takes many hours of hard work to put out a good performance, but they say it's all worth it when the trophy is in your hands.

Editor's Message

It's Finally Over. As a fazed and confused editor in chief, who struck terror in the heart of Kevin Decker at deadlines, I'd like to say a few parting words. Deadlines were murder, but the night sessions were great, even under pressure we can party. We always had a full moon, thanks to Brad Bobby and Mark kept us smiling even when doing gummm hearts. The seventh period rap sessions were great with Eva and Anita (Men! AGGH!!) John, all you keep scamming Becky and Jen. To the 8th Gong staff! Was it love or was it memories. Rewind, Stop, Play, Rewind. Anyways, don't forget yearbook, maybe it's because of the scars, hope everyone enjoys the book. Oh ya, to all year's graduated Gong staff. We love you!! Ha! Ha!

Sports Well it's that done, I hope! I still don't know I really want to thank Bob and Mark, you really made it happen. We had a lot of fun night sessions, gummy bears, full moons etc. To Huy, the surfman, thanks for only taking pictures when I held your hand, and Alissa "Copy Woman" Beckett, thanks for the great copy and dirty looks. Hey Steph, don't forget the "full moon" and "bears". We made it! No problem Mr. Sadnick, no problem!

Lester,

I'm glad I get to know you I had fun in 1st & 2nd
Jung & A from 1st year were our schedules
so we have classes together

Come over to my house some night and you can sneak in you D.K.P. I'll get you some one of the deep C's for you wear my black shorts and I'll give you your own one too, were almost sophomores and haven't even started yet! So next year we'll have to make up for all those sophomores the year we missed out on the fun.

hey lets go to the Tule game and get on San Diego at large! when are you going to Georgia? Have fun
We still have one more day to kick Matt Mincey's butt. I hope I don't get him in a class next year.

Well, it's been a real freshman year I hope the next
3 years are even better. Have a cool summer.

Keep me up and well go to the beach I'll drive by! Keep a touch in the summer keep me straight else I'll come back wearing flannel shirts, heavy metal T-shirts, ripped pants and long hair Don't Drink +
Drive... Get some! Little go thanks for a great year

Class of '90

1. You know where I live come sneak in or sneak me out.

Sister,

Hi it's me again. Well I just thought I'd tell ya it's been nice knowin' ya & I hope we stay good friends next year. You have been totally sweet every since I came here and I was alone you were a great friend. Well, you better keep in touch!! (or else!) Well, I got a half of a page left. I never can think of a whole ~~page~~ page worth of junk to write! Well I think you're a really rad dude. Well I tried for a whole page, but I didn't make it!

STAY
Sweet & Keep
Cool

P.S.

Always remember:

sex is like snow: you never know how much you'll get, or how long it will last!

Love You Always,
Jeni Haug

P.S.S.

87 is OK.

88 is Cool

89 can do better,
but 100 rules!

you better
call me this summer! :D

Lester,

Hello! When I met you I thought you were a quiet person. Well, you know me I was wrong! You get into more trouble than anyone I know. (except for Heather maybe!) I'm glad you and Sarah went out this year. Hey, you never know, maybe when you're both seniors... Nevermind! I'm glad we met though. This year was a blast! Considering all things. You've helped me through some hard times. I appreciate it. It sounds sappy, But, o-well. You know that I'm going to win that bet. You know what I L? You're a * lying  of *. Do me a favor and don't get into any more trouble! -K-P I know that you're going to be busy this summer but try and call me once in a while. Remember I'm moving next year! Thanks for being a true friend! See you later.

Love,
Jenni
